Beulah Wanes, But Kills 6 In Texas

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Waning Hurricane Beulah surged farther inland today, leaving hundreds of square miles of death, destruction and growing floods in her wake.

The monster storm's main track stretched 160 miles into Texas from Brownsville, the coastal point where she first raged ashore Wednesday.

Curving on a more westerly course as she advanced, Beulah finally dropped below minimum hurricane force—75 miles per hour— early today.

Floods boiled up along rivers and creeks faster than harried disaster relief officials could keep track of them.

The little city of Alice, 40 miles west of Corpus Christi was deluged by almost 7 inches of rain as Beulah's eye passed through. Other towns and cities in the vicinity recorded rains in two-digit figures, topped by 13.80 inches at Tuleta, 70 miles northeast of here.

A 13-day-old storm that began in the Atlantic, Beulah claimed 30 lives—six in Texas. Eighteen died in the Caribbean and the rest perished in Mexico's southern regions.

Flooding plagued the southern half of Texas and threatened to be a major problem for days. The rains showed no signs of abating as Gulf of Mexico tides swept headlong up river beds and collided with flood waters from Beulah's rains.

In an unprecedented move the State Department announced through Texas officials at Austin that the United States and Mexico had declared a disaster area along the border Rio Grande.

"The U.S. Immigration service is to open the international border and it is to remain open until further notice," a Texas spokesman said.

The Coast Guard was dispatching three amphibious airplanes from Corpus Christi today to survey damage in the storm's main track.

Tornadoes dealt damage in the millions of dollars. A final accounting of the storm's monetary harm was days—or possibly weeks—away.

Electrical power was shut off to about one-fourth of the Texas land mass. Brownsville was the hardest hit city in the state. Beulah screechd ashore there with 160 m.p.h. winds and rains too heavy to measure.

Hurricane force winds continued at Alice, a city of 23,000 some 40 miles west of Corpus Christi. Downtown businesses were flooded as were most homes. The residents had fled inland or to shelters.

Lack of water was a problem elsewhere. The municipal filtering plant at Corpus was fouled by Gulf backup. The situation was the same along the coast, where some cities reported up to 85 per cent destruction.

Restoration of electrical power was days away, utility company spokesmen said.

Beulah kept her hurricane status for hours longer than expected. Once over land, most hurricanes quickly lose force.

She was centered 60 miles west of Corpus Christi at 5 a.m., when hurricane warnings finally were lowered.

Tragedy and the joy of a new childbirth were marked at Red Cross shelters in Alice. A little girl was born at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday in one shelter. The parents named her Beulah.

Patrol Chases Men Who Are Halted On Uhrichsville Street

Two East Liverpool men and three from the Lisbon area, arrested early today in Uhrichsville in a car which contained three guns, two Molotov cocktails and bricks, are being questioned for possible connection with truck shootings.

Held at the Tuscarawas County Jail were Thomas Bratt, 47, of 800 Valley Ave. and Lester Bratt, 49, of 927 Orchard Grove Ave., East Liverpool, Ronald McGaffick, 28, and Mark Stone, 44, both of Lisbon RD 4, and Robert Harris, 35, of 409 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon.

The Ohio Highway Patrol reported the men first were spotted early this morning at a truck stop about 15 miles south of Dover.

When the patrol officers approached the car in a parking lot, it sped off.

The five were apprehended later in Uhrichsville by Tuscarawas County deputy sheriffs and charged with carrying concealed weapons.

In the auto were three handguns, 170 rounds of ammunition, two incendiary bombs and a number of bricks, deputies said.

Deputies said the men told them they were truckers.

All are being questioned for possible connection with the recent wave of highway shootings apparently related to the trucker protest strike.

They are scheduled for arraignment in a county court at Uhrichsville. No bond has been set.

Meanwhile, more shootings were reported in this district

3 Injured, 27 Arrested

Fire Bombings, Looting Mark Columbus Disorder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some fire bombings, minor looting and window smashings erupted on Columbus' near East Side in a predominately Negro section Wednesday night.

Before some 200 shotgun-armed police restored order early today three persons had been hurt and 27 arrested.

Police were reluctant to call it a racial disturbance, with top officials claiming only gangs of young hoodlums were responsible. But total calm did not come until about dawn, and police continued on the alert.

The heavily-reinforced police squads actually had been called out twice to quell the trouble, first early in the evening to break up a disturbance near a Mount Vernon Avenue tailor shop picketed by 10 persons who claimed the owner refused to rent space to the Congress of Racial Equality.

Eight squadmen attempted to disperse the crowd but then called for help. About 8:30 p.m. most of the policemen withdrew from the area, only to be called back in force around 10:30 p. m. when a small crowd, one policeman said, "suddenly appeared to go nuts," breaking windows at the tailor shop.

Three fires were reported started by fire bombs. Another reportedly was set in a vacant building. Damage was slight in all four fires.

A jewelry store was looted of several hundred dollars worth of goods, as was the tailor shop but neither instance was credited by police to any organized looting, only "grab and run" tactics by teen-age youths.

One of the injured was a policeman hit by a rock. The others were Negroes cut slightly by flying glass.

As quiet was restored Thursday, police officials began investigating persons involved in picketing of the clothing store and tailor shop where the outbreak began.

The owner of the tailor shop maintained he had previously rented the quarters wanted by the picketers to a neighborhood group.

Safety Director Fred Simon said less than 40 persons caused the trouble but at one time more than 1,000 milled in the area about a mile from the heart of downtown Columbus.

A police wedge of 15 men, with bayonets fixed to riot shotguns, pushed the troublemakers step by step down the street from the center of the disturbance--a tailor shop on Mount Vernon Avenue.

Later police, cordoning the area, were showered with bottles and rocks thrown from darkness just beyond the street lights.

Twenty - three Negroes were arrested.

"Decent citizens concerned with their rights were not involved," he said.

Windows in at least 20 establishments were smashed. Owners boarded up the fronts after the violence subsided. Only minor looting was reported.

Several trash fires were started in the street. Later firebombs were thrown into a sporting goods store and a camera shop a mile from the trouble scene. Both fizzed and went out before they caused serious damage.

A man who identified himself as Ed Boston of New York, a field secretary for CORE, said his group plans to picket and boycott the tailoring shop until the owner rents it a storerooms he owns across the street.

Board Names Henderson Midland Superintendent

Charles P. Henderson of 1335 Midland - Beaver Rd., Industry RD 2, was named superintendent of Midland Public Schools when the board of directors held a special meeting Wednesday night at the administration building.

Effective Oct. 9, Henderson will replace Wilbur P. Dershimer whose term was to expire June 30, 1970, and who resigned to accept the position of superintendent of the Fort LeBeouf School District in Erie County.

Dershimer will begin his new duties Oct. 1. He requested in a letter to the board that his resignation be effective Sept. 30 rather than Oct. 31 as originally submitted.

Henderson will receive an annual salary of $14,500. He was elected on a unanimous vote. An honor graduate of South Hills High School at Pittsburgh in 1942, he is a 1945 graduate of Biarritz American University in France, a 1949 graduate cum laude with a bachelor of science degree from Duquesne University and received a master's degree from the Duquesne graduate school in 1953.

Shell-Shocked

Mrs. Leah Kelly found an oval object in vivid red, white and blue hues on her desk this morning when she walked into the "Meter Maid" office in the main corridor at City Hall.

When she flipped on the light for a better look, the unexpected "gift" showed a reptile head and four squatty legs. It turned out to be a land turtle whose shell had been painted in squares in the patriotic colors.

The ensuing commotion brought a curious crowd of officials and clerical workers from all over City Hall. Two or three offered to "adopt" the turtle so that it would not come to harm in downtown traffic. Health Commissioner Jack Bonner took the turtle in tow and said he would take it to his home on Maine Blvd., where there's plenty of grass and trees.

Teachers End 8-Day Strike In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Tentative agreement on a reported $135.4-million wage package has apparently ended the teachers' strike that kept many of New York City's 1.1 million public school pupils out of class for eight days.

Both school officials and union leaders said after the agreement was reached Wednesday, they hoped normal operations in the nation's largest school system could begin on Monday.

A spokesman for the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers local said picket lines would continue until the full membership ratified the contract. A mass meeting for the purpose is expected Sunday.

The Board of Education asked pupils to stay home today.

The walkout began Sept. 11, the start of the fall term, in defiance of a no-strike order from the State Supreme Court.

The three top union leaders were due in court today for an oft-delayed trial on criminal contempt charges.

Details of the proposed contract were not made public, Albert Shanker, president of the 49,000-member, UFT, said the specifics were being withheld because "it would not be conducive to ratification."

However, the package was reported to provide $135.4 million in salary increases and other benefits over a 26-month period from last July 1 to Sept. 10, 1969. The union had turned down a two-year $125-million offer.

U.S. Planes, Guns Retaliate

6 More Marines Killed, 41 Injured By Red Guns

SAIGON (AP) — Continued North Vietnamese shellings across South Vietnam's northern border killed six more Marines and wounded 41, and U.S. forces went after the Red gunners with B52s, Marine fighters and big Navy guns today.

While the battle of artillery, mortars and bombs raged around the U.S. Marine outpost at Con Thien, just below the Demilitarized Zone, men of the Queen's Cobra Regiment of Thailand began arriving to fight around the Saigon area.

The U.S. Command also announced last week's casualties—236 Americans killed, mostly in the war of attrition along the DMZ. Communist losses were put at 1,774 killed. The South Vietnamese said they lost 215 dead.

The number of U.S. combat deaths last week dropped slightly, but the wounded toll rose sharply.

Last week's figures compared to 242 dead, 1,490 wounded and 7 missing for the previous week ending Sept. 9.

Eight-engine B52 bombers went back for two predawn raids near Con Thien today after they and jungle-skimming fighter-bombers tried to pinpoint the Communist firing positions and destroy them Wednesday.

Foul weather hid the enemy, who opened up with another barrage, hitting the Marine positions with more than 300 rounds of artillery, mortar and rocket fire in the last 24 hours.

Some of it came from Soviet-built 152mm guns as far as 15 miles away.

The B52 attacks today were aimed at suspected Communist troop concentrations, rocket positions, bunkers and trench networks with 2.5 miles of Con Thien, both to the west and to the north in the DMZ. The B52s have hit the DMZ 67 times since mid-August.

They were joined today by Marine fighter-bombers, which flew 20 missions, and the U.S. destroyer Morton, firing from the coast.

In Saigon, the first 1,200 of 2,500 troops sent by Thailand arrived and moved to a base 20 miles east of Saigon to fight guerrillas while shielding South Vietnamese pacification teams.

South Vietnam now has six nations aiding it with ground troops—the United States, Thailand, South Korea, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

Two Jockeys Badly Injured At Waterford

Two Waterford Park jockeys were injured badly Wednesday night after one horse accidentally fell and a second hurled its rider into the prostrate animal after losing its footing.

In "guarded" condition at the intensive care unit of Presbyterian Hospital in Pittsburgh is Raul Alonzo of Tampa, Fla., who suffered back injuries and a possible broken neck. Hospital officials term "guarded" condition as between serious and critical.

Undergoing surgery this morning at the same hospital was Wiley Fielden Denney, 18, of Berryville, Va. Denney has a possible broken back.

Peter J. O'Donnell, assistant of the president at the West Virginia track, said Alonzo was aboard Bill's Troubles in the eighth race. The horse reportedly went into the final turn and "crossed its legs" as it changed stride, plunging the animal and rider to the ground.

Denney, mounted on Flying North, riding in a pack and apparently unable to avoid the fallen horse and rider, also was dropped.

O'Donnell explained that horses will instinctively jump over a fallen object, but the general consensus after viewing video-tape films, was that the first horse fell after crossing its legs, a rare occurrence, and the second could not avoid the collision.

J. George Torrence

Services will be held Friday for J. George Torrence, 79, of 402 Indiana Ave., Chester, who died Tuesday about 8 p. m. at City Hospital following a brief illness.

He was born March 17, 1888, in Hanover Township. He was a former elder of the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church.

He served with the armed forces in France during World War I.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith Cameron Torrence, at home; two nieces and a nephew.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown, with the Rev. A. K. Davidson of the First United Presbyterian Church officiating.

Burial will follow in Mill Creek Cemetery.

Mrs. Willard Bell

Private services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Carl W. Hall Funeral Home on N. Park Ave., Warren, for Mrs. Marguerite Bell of 923 E. Walled Lake Dr., Walled Lake, Mich., who died Monday at 8:30 p. m. in Algonac, Mich., after a short illness. She was 71.

A resident of Walled Lake for 27 years, she previously resided in Detroit. Mrs. Bell was born in Detroit March 17, 1896, a daughter of Frank R. and Jennie Fletcher Estabrook. She was a member of the auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Garden Club, the Farm Bureau and the WSCS of the Methodist Church, all in Walled Lake.

She leaves her husband, Willard C. Bell, at home; a son, Willard D. Bell of Clare, Mich.; a daughter, Mrs. Maxine Shaw of Lansing, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. Algie Gustin of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Frances Heffner of Detroit, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The Rev. Fred H. Zaugg will officiate at the services in Warren. Graveside services will be held at 11:30 a. m. Saturday at Mill Creek Cemetery at Hookstown.

Friends may call Friday from 7 to 9 p. m. at the funeral home.

Beulah

Armed National Guardsmen patrolled Brownsville, Harlingen, San Benito and Port Isabel.

A newsman who risked his life to view Beulah's devastation at Port Isabel put it this way: "The town looked as if there had been saturation bombing."

Communications were almost non-existent. Ham radio operators kept up a constant flow of information between Valley towns, whenever they had power for their transmitters.

Tornadoes writhed off in record numbers from Beulah, herself the third largest hurricane in recorded history. She was responsible for 30 confirmed twisters. There were unofficial reports of more than 50 sightings. One tornado hit tiny Burnet, Tex., some 250 miles to the north of Beulah's track.

Damage was heavy also in Matamoros, Mexico, across the border from Brownsville.

Beulah's eye never reached Corpus Christi but her force at this sparkling coastal resort, fishing and industrial metropolis still ranked her as the third worst for the city. Beulah's winds were clocked here by the Weather Bureau at 86 m.p.h. while a Corps of Engineers station caught gusts at 110 m.p.h—34 m.p.h. faster than those of mighty Hurricane Carla in 1961.

Rains continued over a vast area today.

The Nueces River was flooding less than 40 miles north of Corpus Christi and salt water from the 7.7-foot tides forced the two water filtration stations serving this city's 200,000 population to shut down. Officials said water supplies on hand would last 24 hours.

State officials kept track of the storm and its effects from a complex in Austin called the Emergency Operating Center. The center stressed time and again that evacuees should not try to return to their homes yet.

Brownsville and the area just up the coast from it were the hardest hit. State police found "all commercial buildings" suffered damage from major structural failure on down. Residents of lower areas waited to return to flooded homes, nearly all modest to poor housing. There was no doubt that many would be homeless.

Much of Beulah's track was over rangeland of the famed King Ranch and other cattle spreads in the flat salt grass country. Livestock losses were expected to run into millions of dollars.

Judging from the massive damage on the coast, the multi-million dollar tourist facilities along Padre Island must have sustained a devastating blow. The island, a favorite sun, fishing and vacation resort, runs the 160 miles from Brownsville to Corpus Christi, putting it in or near the northeast quadrant of Beulah's trek for almost its entire length.

The tornadoes claimed four lives. One man drowned between Victoria and Edna, Tex., when his car was swept away in a river.

Henderson

principal of the South Side Junior - Senior High School at Hookstown from 1961 until 1966 when he resigned to become assistant director for resident instruction at the Beaver County Campus of Pennsylvania State University.

He has been a member of the Western Beaver County Board of School Directors since 1960, served as president of the board in 1964 and 1965, and was chairman of the buildings and grounds committee for construction of the Western Beaver Junior-Senior High School from 1961-1963.

Voted "Citizen of the Year" at Midland in 1953, Henderson was chairman of Midland's Golden Jubilee in 1956, chairman of special events for Midland's Fourth of July celebrations from 1956-1964, was chairman of the Shippingport Bridge dedication in 1964, and is a candidate for the Constitutional Convention in November.

The next board meeting scheduled for Oct. 9 was moved to Oct. 16 because of the arrival of the new superintendent on Oct. 9.

Following a letter request from Robert L. Blinn, elementary principal, the elementary report card period was changed from six six-week periods to four nine-week periods to coincide with the secondary report system recently adopted.

He also presented a request of elementary teaching personnel for a 5½ hour work day with a 3 p. m. class dismissal. The matter will be discussed further by Blinn and Henry J. Kuzma, junior - senior high school principal, as to bus schedules involved.

John Zdinak, chairman of the personnel committee, recommended Blinn be authorized to attend the 15th annual Elementary Principals convention at Philadelphia Oct. 12-14 with expenses not to exceed $75.

Edward Olkowski, head basketball coach, and Larry Bender, his assistant, were authorized to attend the Keystone Cage Clinic Oct. 6 and 7 at New Cumberland, Pa., with expenses not to exceed $90 for both men.

The board approved a total contract of $1,779 to N. F. Ruggeri for repairs to the 4th St. School boilers and made partial payment of $745.

General bills totaling $7,178 were paid.

A partial payment of $16,720 to the St. Joseph Construction Co. for remodeling the biology and science area was approved. Sam Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, said plumbers will begin laying drains on the project today.

There was a lengthy discussion about purchasing a planer for the wood shop at the high school. An estimate was $1,655 including $80 for freight. Since only $600 was allocated in the new budget for shop equipment, the matter was referred to the property committee for further study. The planer and a lathe, costing $560, have been requested by George Ordich, instructor.

In the event the planer is purchased, the school could trade-in an old 24-inch planer now at the 7th St. School for the sum of $200, Rosatone said.

A request for a new double-oven electric range for the home economics department was also referred to the property committee for study. Rosatone had secured estimates from Allen's Furniture on Tappan, Midland Electric on Frigidaire, and Leo's Appliance on Westinghouse. He said the three estimates ranged from $229 to $269.

Installation Of Furnace Due For Camp At Beaver Creek

William Crawford of Toronto, chairman of the development committee, was authorized to receive bids for the temporary installation of a new furnace during trustees' meeting of the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian Church Camp.

The furnace will be used in Rose Lodge throughout the winter until the lodge extension is completed.

Reports were heard from various officers. Marshall Dutterer of East Liverpool and Charles Findling of Youngstown, co-chairmen of the operating committee, reported on the progress of a proposed new road into the camp. Findling said the Boy Scouts will be coming into camp Oct. 6-8 to help open a new nature trail.

Appointed to a nominating committee were the Rev. H. Gene Toot, chairman, Rev. MacAllister from the Mahoning Presbytery and Crawford of the Steubenville Presbytery.

A report from Ky Kipgen, a Princeton Seminary student from India, was read by the Rev. Richard Shipley of East Liverpool. Shipley is co-chairman of the program committee.

Kipgen served as the summer missionary and craft director for the year. He served as supply minister at nine churches in the two presbyteries during his stay.

Rev. Shipley reported the study theme this year is "conservation." The biggest problem is recruiting counselors and there is a need for more indoor recreational equipment, he said.

Mrs. Phyllis Conley of East Liverpool, secretary, reported 10,270 meals were served in nine weeks of camping to 464 campers.

A campers' reunion for the canoe trip will be held at the camp Dec. 28-29. The Youth Council of the Christian Education Committees of both presbyteries are invited.

Guests from the presbyteries' Christian Education Committees were introduced.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 at 1:30 p. m.

The Rev. Franklin MacAllister of Sebring opened the meeting with prayer and the Rev. Robert Palisin of Homeworth led closing prayer. Robert Hummer of Girard is chairman of the board.

You Get 20 BOXES OF TIDE FREE

THIS PORTABLE — ROLLS ON LARGE CASTERS
Large easy rolling casters let the HOOVER move about with complete ease. Store it in one place...use it in another.

WITH 1/3 CUP OF DETERGENT — SAVES $$ ON DETERGENT
The washing action is so efficient, it needs less detergent than the agitator or tumbler-type washer. It has a SUDS-SAVER, too!

WASHES A FAMILY SIZE LOAD — FAMILY-SIZE LOADS
2 Double Sheets plus pillow cases, or 36 diapers, or 12 men's shirts. Washes even the most delicate things.

IN 4 MINUTES — WASHES FAST

SO THOROUGHLY YOU'LL HARDLY BELIEVE IT — TURBO-ACTION AGITATION

RINSES AND SPINS DRY IN 2 MINUTES — DRIES IN SECONDS
The clothes are spun at the amazing speed of 2,000 RPM, this enables the washer to extract soap or detergents that can't be rinsed out. Laundry comes out really damp-dry.

100 GALLONS
Uses only 1/3 the amount of water that most automatics use. Saves up to 100 gallons every 3 loads.

NEEDS NO PLUMBING — NO PLUMBING NECESSARY
Needs no plumbing, needs no installation. Just roll the HOOVER to any sink, slip on the hose and start washing. Pump empties washer automatically.

EASY TO SERVICE — No gears or complicated control panels. Truly a do-it-yourself washer. Belt replacement is a breeze...less need for costly service.

LISBON — Eleven communities in Columbiana County elected committees Wednesday to work with the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee for another year.

Results of the voting by mail were tallied in the ASC office on the Square. Ballots were returned by approximately 580 of the 2,576 eligible voters.

Each community elected five members. Three from each committee will be delegates to the county ASC convention at 1:30 p. m. Sept. 27 at the Lisbon office to elect a member of the county committee and two alternates.

Terms expiring this year are those of L. Earl Lora of Perry Township, vice chairman, and two alternates—Clyde L. Farmer, Salem Township, and John H. Raley, Elkrun Township.

Other members of the county committee are J. Glenn Bates of Salem Township, chairman, and Carl H. Daiger of Middleton Township, who was elected last year to a three - year term.

Community committees follow — chairman, vice chairman, member and two alternates:

Butler Township — Earl R. Bardo, Jay E. Denny, Lloyd K. Walton, Carl E. Herron, James A. Rhodes Jr.

principal of the South Side Junior - Senior High School at Hookstown from 1961 until 1966 when he resigned to become assistant director for resident instruction at the Beaver County Campus of Pennsylvania State University.

He has been a member of the Western Beaver County Board of School Directors since 1960, served as president of the board in 1964 and 1965, and was chairman of the buildings and grounds committee for construction of the Western Beaver Junior-Senior High School from 1961-1963.

Voted "Citizen of the Year" at Midland in 1953, Henderson was chairman of Midland's Golden Jubilee in 1956, chairman of special events for Midland's Fourth of July celebrations from 1956-1964, was chairman of the Shippingport Bridge dedication in 1964, and is a candidate for the Constitutional Convention in November.

The next board meeting scheduled for Oct. 9 was moved to Oct. 16 because of the arrival of the new superintendent on Oct. 9.

Following a letter request from Robert L. Blinn, elementary principal, the elementary report card period was changed from six six-week periods to four nine-week periods to coincide with the secondary report system recently adopted.

He also presented a request of elementary teaching personnel for a 5½ hour work day with a 3 p. m. class dismissal. The matter will be discussed further by Blinn and Henry J. Kuzma, junior - senior high school principal, as to bus schedules involved.

John Zdinak, chairman of the personnel committee, recommended Blinn be authorized to attend the 15th annual Elementary Principals convention at Philadelphia Oct. 12-14 with expenses not to exceed $75.

Edward Olkowski, head basketball coach, and Larry Bender, his assistant, were authorized to attend the Keystone Cage Clinic Oct. 6 and 7 at New Cumberland, Pa., with expenses not to exceed $90 for both men.

The board approved a total contract of $1,779 to N. F. Ruggeri for repairs to the 4th St. School boilers and made partial payment of $745.

General bills totaling $7,178 were paid.

A partial payment of $16,720 to the St. Joseph Construction Co. for remodeling the biology and science area was approved. Sam Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, said plumbers will begin laying drains on the project today.

There was a lengthy discussion about purchasing a planer for the wood shop at the high school. An estimate was $1,655 including $80 for freight. Since only $600 was allocated in the new budget for shop equipment, the matter was referred to the property committee for further study. The planer and a lathe, costing $560, have been requested by George Ordich, instructor.

In the event the planer is purchased, the school could trade-in an old 24-inch planer now at the 7th St. School for the sum of $200, Rosatone said.

A request for a new double-oven electric range for the home economics department was also referred to the property committee for study. Rosatone had secured estimates from Allen's Furniture on Tappan, Midland Electric on Frigidaire, and Leo's Appliance on Westinghouse. He said the three estimates ranged from $229 to $269.

Installation Of Furnace Due For Camp At Beaver Creek

William Crawford of Toronto, chairman of the development committee, was authorized to receive bids for the temporary installation of a new furnace during trustees' meeting of the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian Church Camp.

The furnace will be used in Rose Lodge throughout the winter until the lodge extension is completed.

Reports were heard from various officers. Marshall Dutterer of East Liverpool and Charles Findling of Youngstown, co--chairmen of the operating committee, reported on the progress of a proposed new road into the camp. Findling said the Boy Scouts will be coming into camp Oct. 6-8 to help open a new nature trail.

Appointed to a nominating committee were the Rev. H. Gene Toot, chairman, Rev. MacAllister from the Mahoning Presbytery and Crawford of the Steubenville Presbytery.

A report from Ky Kipgen, a Princeton Seminary student from India, was read by the Rev. Richard Shipley of East Liverpool. Shipley is co-chairman of the program committee.

Kipgen served as the summer missionary and craft director for the year. He served as supply minister at nine churches in the two presbyteries during his stay.

Rev. Shipley reported the study theme this year is "conservation." The biggest problem is recruiting counselors and there is a need for more indoor recreational equipment, he said.

Mrs. Phyllis Conley of East Liverpool, secretary, reported 10,270 meals were served in nine weeks of camping to 464 campers.

A campers' reunion for the canoe trip will be held at the camp Dec. 28-29. The Youth Council of the Christian Education Committees of both presbyteries are invited.

Guests from the presbyteries' Christian Education Committees were introduced.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 at 1:30 p. m.

The Rev. Franklin MacAllister of Sebring opened the meeting with prayer and the Rev. Robert Palisin of Homeworth led closing prayer. Robert Hummer of Girard is chairman of the board.

Rosinante Is Disenchanted

At this point in Asiatic disenchantment, the news media should be credited with their share in revealing the truth about Vietnam.

Newspaper, magazine, television and radio reporters have performed heroic service in telling the American people about the struggle in Southeast Asia. They are responsible for the "credibility gap" that yawns ever wider between the American people and their government.

More than ever before, the American people are relying on the news media to tell them what is happening in a war that was defied popular understanding.

And more than ever before, the news media has shown the seamy side of what always was questionable intercession in Asiatic power politics and now has turned into a conflict whose military feasibility is questionable.

It is not only a question of whether the United States should have been sucked into a vortex of oriental power politics. It now is a question of whether the United States can extricate itself from the vortex without a military disaster.

The suspicion that North Vietnam is turning the tables, bleeding the United States into submission while the Pentagon still talks about bombing the North Vietnamese into submission grows stronger.

So does the suspicion that the South Vietnamese are weakening on the proposition that the United States should save them from Communism even if it kills them. Not all of them would rather be dead than red.

Newsmen serving the American public have revealed the reaction of the South Vietnamese to this latest episode of Western intervention — and it is not reassuring.

Nothing Washington can say sounds reassuring.

Somehow the U. S. crusade against Communism — the Dulles doctrine that the United States can and must fight everything called Communism wherever and whenever it appears — is not going well.

Don Quixote may still be full of zeal, but Rosinante is disenchanted. The willing horse is wondering whose idea it was to tilt at windmills in Asiatic rice paddies and jungles.

Thanks to freedom of information, no one believes the South Vietnamese, themselves, ever were fired up about being saved.

An Urgent Need

In case anyone thinks there isn't a pressing need for develpment of water and sewage system projects throughout Columbiana County, some preliminary studies by the Regional Planning Commission are extremely illuminating.

Horace McLean, planning consultant, has come up with a report which shows 18.7 per cent of the county's housing obtains water from public systems, while 81.3 per cent depends on private ground sources such as wells.

McLean's study also shows only 5 per cent of the county's homes empty sewage into public systems; the rest — 95 per cent — empty sewage into the ground.

Also, the county's soils are poor for such ground deposits — only 8 per cent are suitable for septic tanks.

Thus, 33.3 per cent of the country's homes are obtaining water from ground into which 95 per cent of the homes are depositing sewage.

The health aspects of the lack of water and sewage facilities for the county are enough to justify expedient action on the projects.

Add to this the great potential for new homes and industries — spurring development and growth of every community — there can be little excuse for not undertaking cooperative efforts to solve the problem as soon as possible.

Party? What Party?

What are other Democrats doing to help him?

Well there is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat; but he is the leading critic of President Johnson's foreign policy. He said in August: "The Great Society has become a sick society."

Sen. Majority Leader Mike Mansfield also is a Democrat, but he is opposed to the President's escalation of the Vietnam War.

Sen. John Stennis, Democratic member of the Armed Services Committee, charges President Johnson isn't using enough fire power against the North Vietnamese.

According to all the publicity, Republicans would like to shove President Johnson out of the White House in 1968. Such an ambition would necessarily be backed up by a united vigorous pre-campaign drive against the President. Right? Well let's see.

In line with the normal course of political events the Republican Coordinating Committee in a July 24 report on rioting claimed that "we are rapidly approaching a state of anarchy, and the President has totally failed to recognize the problem. Worse, he has vetoed legislation and opposed other legislation designed to re-establish peace and order within the country."

On July 27 Republican Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, a former GOP national chairman, denounced the committee's statement as "irresponsible."

The administration's August authorization for bombing near the Chinese border brought outcries of protest from Democrats Mansfield, Fulbright, Ohio's Sen. Stephen M. Young and Tennessee's Sen. Albert Gore.

On the other hand, the action was endorsed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and had the further support of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Senate Republican leader.

Looks as if we may see the two parties trying to land a prominent member of the opposition to deliver the keynote address at 1968 conventions.

But don't become alarmed. That doesn't mean a Republican will kick off the Democratic convention and vice versa; because in modern politics the major opposition to a party is within that same party.

Manescu Could Do It

After Americans get over the initial shock of having a Communist presiding over the United Nations General Assembly, they can look objectively at his chances of easing Arab-Israel tension in the Middle East.

He considers this to be the U.N.'s foremost duty. It heads the list of 96 items on the proposed agenda for the 22nd General Assembly session. What is significant about President Manescu's chances?

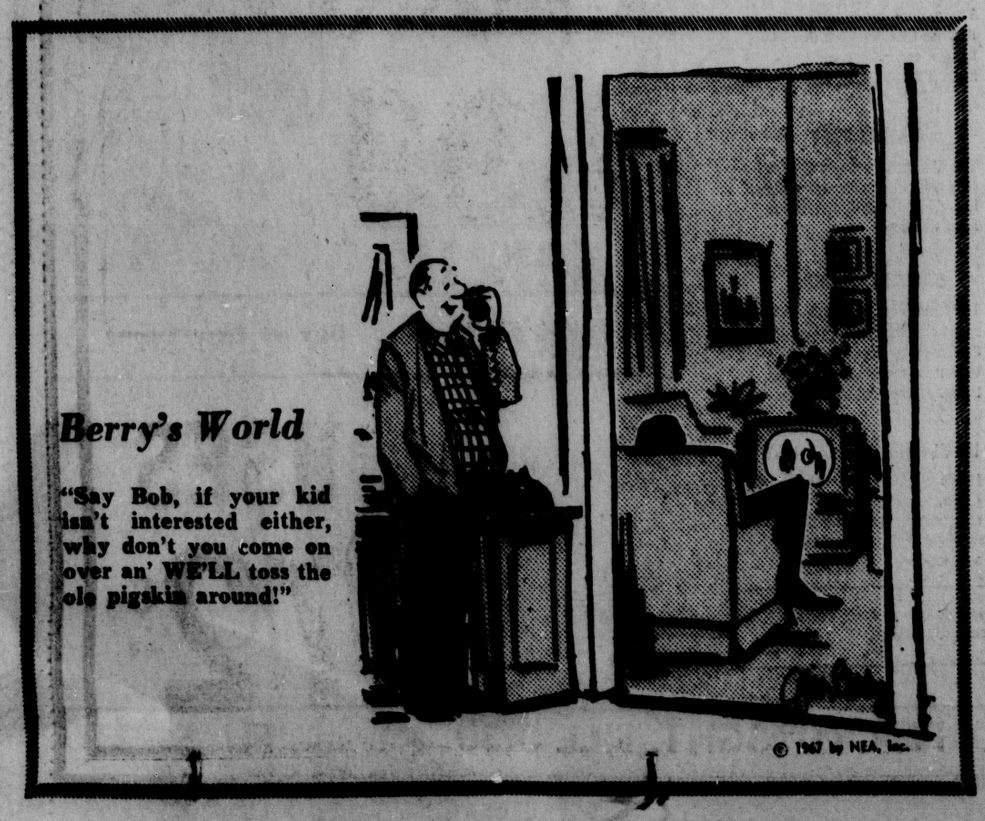
He is a Communist.

Key to easing Arab-Israel tension is to cool off Egypt's Nasser, who never would have been encouraged to precipitate a showdown with Israel had it not been for massive help from Moscow.

If Moscow wants to be relieved of costly responsibility for a discredited politican who has led an impoverished nation up a blind alley, Nasser will be just another cold potato in politics.

He would have to reopen the Suez Canal to survive. He would have to follow the Moscow line. He has committed himself to Moscow's patronage. He must hold Moscow's favor to survive. No one else wants him.

If Moscow wants to cool him off Nasser, the new president of the U.N. General Assembly is just the man to do it. He, too, listens to Moscow.



The Magnifying Glass

Ghetto, Inc.

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

A friend of mine has just thought of a way to raise a large sum of money for poverty-stricken areas without one cent's cost to the taxpayer. He calls his program Ghetto, Inc., and this is his explanation of how it works.

Art Buchwald

"From now until the presidential elections in 1968," my friend said, "ghettos are going to be the big thing and every politician running for public office is going to have to visit one. But most politicians don't know where to begin when it comes to touring the slums, and so Ghetto, Inc., will make all the arrangements for them, for a fee, of course."

"What will you do?"

"Well, let us suppose the person wishing to tour a ghetto area is one of the many thousands of presidential candidates who feels obligated to walk through a depressed area. Ghetto, Inc., would make out an itinerary for him. First, we'd have him visit a rat-infested tenement where he could be visibly shocked.

"THEN WE'D TAKE him over to meet the parish priest who has just coached a Little League team of deprived youngsters to a city championship. After that we'd have him talk to an ex-convict who has gone straight and become a Good Humor man.

"Finally, we would arrange an interview with an unwed mother who has just lost her welfare payments. The candidate could or could not promise the woman he'd do something about it, depending on how he thinks the country feels at the time about unwed mothers."

"It sounds like a great service," I said. "How much does it cost?"

"Well, that's just a simple tour, and with transportation and including ex-convict and Good Humor truck, we charge $1,500.

"That's not expensive," I said.

"Of course, Ghetto, Inc., has more luxurious tours. We can arrange for a candidate to walk through a garbage dump, have him photographed with a group of striking schoolteachers, let him cut the ribbon for a new playground and then lay the cornerstone for a low-cost housing development. The charge for this would be $10,000, and we'd supply the striking schoolteachers."

"You must be swamped with business," I said.

"Well, it's picking up nicely," my friend said. "Of course, the beauty of Ghetto, Inc., is that we can service all candidates whether they're for or against the poverty program."

"How's that?"

"SUPPOSE YOU HAVE a candidate who is against welfare, opposed to coddling the poor and feels everyone should lift himself up by his own bootstraps."

"I know one," I said.

"Well, for $25,000 we'll arrange a tour for him which will include having rotten vegetables and eggs thrown at him, having paint spilled on his car and, if he requests it, having the press roughed up. This will get him the sympathy of the backlash crowd, which he is appealing to in the first place."

"I could see a candidate asking for that kind of treatment, but where do you find the people to throw the rotten eggs and vegetables?"

"Oh, they're around, they're around."

"Well, I think it's a very noble experiment and I can't see how Ghetto Inc. can miss," I said.

"It can't. As a matter of fact, with so many people running for office in 1968, our only fear is that we may run out of ghettos — or, even worse, unwed mothers — before the campaign is over."

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We read in our daily paper of many terrible, drastic things that happen, but there are still a lot of wonderful people in the world, as we have learned through experience, by the serious accident of our son, David.

We wish to sincerely thank Cindy Shepherd, who went for help; the Newell bus driver, Mr. Lawrence, who stopped the bus and covered David with his coat and stayed with him until the ambulance came; the man at the American Legion who phoned for the ambulance; the men who brought the ambulance so quickly; the four doctors with him at the City Hospital; the kind nurses in pediatric ward; those who donated blood, and many others including David's thoughtful, teenage friends for their telephone calls, cards, gifts and flowers (How true the phrase, "They are not all delinquents!). It is people like these that make a rainbow appear after the storm. David is a lucky boy. We are thankful to God, and grateful to all who helped speed his recovery.

There is no guardrail where David fell from the sidewalk over the hill. It seems such a shame that our children have to suffer from "adults" mistakes!

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The future of the community of Pughtown can be greatly enhanced by the pride of the people in the historical background that reaches back to the year of 1810, when Dr. David Pugh laid out a town of 113 lots and called it New Manchester, according to several residents who are interested in bringing back some of this historical atmosphere.

Many people in this community can remember the romantic and historical aspects of New Manchester as these were handed down from generation to generation. It is with pride they relate events that have made their way into history books of the community and surrounding area.

The first important step in restoring the historical atmosphere to this community could be the restoring of the original name of New Manchester. The U. S. Postal authorities are agreeable to this name change and, with the help of interested residents, the erection of street names as they were known back in the days of New Manchester would lend an air of romantic history by knowing these same roads were used by the pioneering settlers of the early 1800's.

Historical markers at the locations of the old "Virginia" and "Manchester" inns, the various business houses such as the blacksmith shops, Hancock County Courier newspaper, churches, etc. will, without a doubt, recall to the minds of the older residents, the history of the original county seat in 1848 when the community was known as New Manchester.

The interested citizens of the community are urged to take part in creating the historical atmosphere this area deserves.

This 'N That

One thing about the late Carl Sandburg that shouldn't be overlooked is the way he blazed a trail for unkempt poets who came later in this century. He dressed like an unmade bed.

The most famous food gift ever sent to the White House was the mammoth 1,600 - pound cheese which was sent to President Thomas Jefferson by a group of Massachusetts admirers.

Observances in November of 1958 marked the 20th anniversary of the Nazi onslaught on Jewish synagogues in Germany. This day became known as "Crystal Day" because of the many glass and crystal objects that were shattered.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Nuclear Power

What may prove to be the most significant event of 1967 in world history is the ensuing effect of an official revelation which measures American and Soviet nuclear strength today and in the future.

The comparison is contained in a carefully prepared speech delivered by Secretary of Defense McNamara in San Francisco to the editors and publishers of United Press International.

Leaders of the Soviet Union will examine the address minutely, and so will the rulers of Red China. When they have digested its contents, they will realize that the United States does not intend to fall behind in the nuclear-arms race.

It is willing to apply limitations on further development, but these can never be agreed upon and applied unless there is mutual trust and a readiness to allow constant inspection.

Mr. McNamara's positive statements about the capability of the United States and the Soviet Union to destroy each other are terrifying, particularly the observation that "if man is to have a future at all, it will have to be a future overshadowed with the permanent possibility of thermonuclear holocaust."

THE DEFENSE secretary, explaining our "assured destruction capability," made it clear the United States "must be able to absorb the total weight of nuclear attack on our country" and retaliate so effectively as to destroy the aggressor.

He said deterrence of nuclear aggression means "the certainty of suicide to the aggressor — not merely to his military forces, but to his society as a whole."

Mr. McNamara defined "first-strike capability" as the substantial elimination of a retaliatory strike by the nation that is attacked. He declared:

"The United States cannot — and will not — ever permit itself to get into the position in which another nation, or combination of nations, would possess such a first-strike capability, which could be effectively used against it. . . .

"Now, we are not in that position today — and there is no foreseeable danger of our ever getting into that position."

The secretary of defense emphasized that the Soviet Union does not possess a "first-strike capability" against the United States and is not likely to acquire it "in the foreseeable future."

The reason he gave is that the United States intends to remain alert and "will never permit our own assured destruction capability is a point where a Soviet first-strike capability is even remotely feasible."

At the same time, Mr. McNamara conceded that the United States does not possess a "first-strike capability" against the Soviet Union either. He declared that once war starts it would mean a devastating retaliation which no nation would wish to risk.

Lately, there has been much talk about the failure of the United States to build an antiballistic-missile system to counter Russia's advance in that field. Mr. McNamara is willing to accede partially to the demands of those members of Congress and military men who have been arguing all along for such a system.

BUT THE secretary prefers to speak of it as a defense against Red China. He insists that the United States "must maintain substantial conventional forces," too, to protect its interests in other parts of the world.

Unquestionably, President Johnson read the McNamara speech beforehand, and so did his advisers.

The decision to make it presumably was based on the theory that it is better to bring all the facts out into the open now so that, as Mr. McNamara phrased it, the United States could "come to a realistic and reasonably riskless agreement with the Soviet Union, which would effectively prevent such an arms race."

And more than ever before, the news media has shown the seamy side of what always was questionable intercession in Asiatic power politics and now has turned into a conflict whose military feasibility is questionable.

It is not only a question of whether the United States should have been sucked into a vortex of oriental power politics. It now is a question of whether the United States can extricate itself from the vortex without a military disaster.

The suspicion that North Vietnam is turning the tables, bleeding the United States into submission while the Pentagon still talks about bombing the North Vietnamese into submission grows stronger.

So does the suspicion that the South Vietnamese are weakening on the proposition that the United States should save them from Communism even if it kills them. Not all of them would rather be dead than red.

Newsmen serving the American public have revealed the reaction of the South Vietnamese to this latest episode of Western intervention — and it is not reassuring.

Nothing Washington can say sounds reassuring.

Somehow the U. S. crusade against Communism — the Dulles doctrine that the United States can and must fight everything called Communism wherever and whenever it appears — is not going well.

Don Quixote may still be full of zeal, but Rosinante is disenchanted. The willing horse is wondering whose idea it was to tilt at windmills in Asiatic rice paddies and jungles.

Thanks to freedom of information, no one believes the South Vietnamese, themselves, ever were fired up about being saved.

An Urgent Need

In case anyone thinks there isn't a pressing need for develpment of water and sewage system projects throughout Columbiana County, some preliminary studies by the Regional Planning Commission are extremely illuminating.

Horace McLean, planning consultant, has come up with a report which shows 18.7 per cent of the county's housing obtains water from public systems, while 81.3 per cent depends on private ground sources such as wells.

McLean's study also shows only 5 per cent of the county's homes empty sewage into public systems; the rest — 95 per cent — empty sewage into the ground.

Also, the county's soils are poor for such ground deposits — only 8 per cent are suitable for septic tanks.

Thus, 33.3 per cent of the country's homes are obtaining water from ground into which 95 per cent of the homes are depositing sewage.

The health aspects of the lack of water and sewage facilities for the county are enough to justify expedient action on the projects.

Add to this the great potential for new homes and industries — spurring development and growth of every community — there can be little excuse for not undertaking cooperative efforts to solve the problem as soon as possible.

Party? What Party?

What are other Democrats doing to help him?

Well there is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat; but he is the leading critic of President Johnson's foreign policy. He said in August: "The Great Society has become a sick society."

Sen. Majority Leader Mike Mansfield also is a Democrat, but he is opposed to the President's escalation of the Vietnam War.

Sen. John Stennis, Democratic member of the Armed Services Committee, charges President Johnson isn't using enough fire power against the North Vietnamese.

According to all the publicity, Republicans would like to shove President Johnson out of the White House in 1968. Such an ambition would necessarily be backed up by a united vigorous pre-campaign drive against the President. Right? Well let's see.

In line with the normal course of political events the Republican Coordinating Committee in a July 24 report on rioting claimed that "we are rapidly approaching a state of anarchy, and the President has totally failed to recognize the problem. Worse, he has vetoed legislation and opposed other legislation designed to re-establish peace and order within the country."

On July 27 Republican Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, a former GOP national chairman, denounced the committee's statement as "irresponsible."

The administration's August authorization for bombing near the Chinese border brought outcries of protest from Democrats Mansfield, Fulbright, Ohio's Sen. Stephen M. Young and Tennessee's Sen. Albert Gore.

On the other hand, the action was endorsed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and had the further support of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Senate Republican leader.

Looks as if we may see the two parties trying to land a prominent member of the opposition to deliver the keynote address at 1968 conventions.

But don't become alarmed. That doesn't mean a Republican will kick off the Democratic convention and vice versa; because in modern politics the major opposition to a party is within that same party.

Manescu Could Do It

After Americans get over the initial shock of having a Communist presiding over the United Nations General Assembly, they can look objectively at his chances of easing Arab-Israel tension in the Middle East.

He considers this to be the U.N.'s foremost duty. It heads the list of 96 items on the proposed agenda for the 22nd General Assembly session. What is significant about President Manescu's chances?

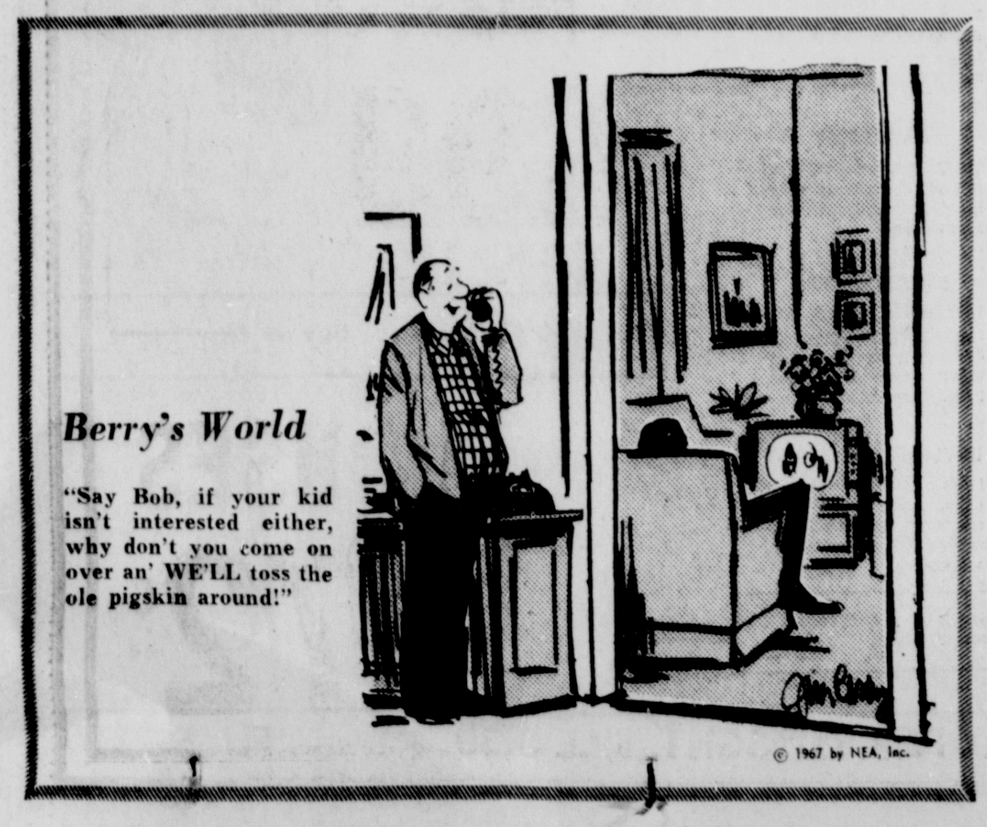
He is a Communist.

Key to easing Arab-Israel tension is to cool off Egypt's Nasser, who never would have been encouraged to precipitate a showdown with Israel had it not been for massive help from Moscow.

If Moscow wants to be relieved of costly responsibility for a discredited politican who has led an impoverished nation up a blind alley, Nasser will be just another cold potato in politics.

He would have to reopen the Suez Canal to survive. He would have to follow the Moscow line. He has committed himself to Moscow's patronage. He must hold Moscow's favor to survive. No one else wants him.

If Moscow wants to cool him off Nasser, the new president of the U.N. General Assembly is just the man to do it. He, too, listens to Moscow.



The Magnifying Glass

Ghetto, Inc.

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

A friend of mine has just thought of a way to raise a large sum of money for poverty-stricken areas without one cent's cost to the taxpayer. He calls his program Ghetto, Inc., and this is his explanation of how it works.

Art Buchwald

"From now until the presidential elections in 1968," my friend said, "ghettos are going to be the big thing and every politician running for public office is going to have to visit one. But most politicians don't know where to begin when it comes to touring the slums, and so Ghetto, Inc., will make all the arrangements for them, for a fee, of course."

"What will you do?"

"Well, let us suppose the person wishing to tour a ghetto area is one of the many thousands of presidential candidates who feels obligated to walk through a depressed area. Ghetto, Inc., would make out an itinerary for him. First, we'd have him visit a rat-infested tenement where he could be visibly shocked.

"THEN WE'D TAKE him over to meet the parish priest who has just coached a Little League team of deprived youngsters to a city championship. After that we'd have him talk to an ex-convict who has gone straight and become a Good Humor man.

"Finally, we would arrange an interview with an unwed mother who has just lost her welfare payments. The candidate could or could not promise the woman he'd do something about it, depending on how he thinks the country feels at the time about unwed mothers."

"It sounds like a great service," I said. "How much does it cost?"

"Well, that's just a simple tour, and with transportation and including ex-convict and Good Humor truck, we charge $1,500.

"That's not expensive," I said.

"Of course, Ghetto, Inc., has more luxurious tours. We can arrange for a candidate to walk through a garbage dump, have him photographed with a group of striking schoolteachers, let him cut the ribbon for a new playground and then lay the cornerstone for a low-cost housing development. The charge for this would be $10,000, and we'd supply the striking schoolteachers."

"You must be swamped with business," I said.

"Well, it's picking up nicely," my friend said. "Of course, the beauty of Ghetto, Inc., is that we can service all candidates whether they're for or against the poverty program."

"How's that?"

"SUPPOSE YOU HAVE a candidate who is against welfare, opposed to coddling the poor and feels everyone should lift himself up by his own bootstraps."

"I know one," I said.

"Well, for $25,000 we'll arrange a tour for him which will include having rotten vegetables and eggs thrown at him, having paint spilled on his car and, if he requests it, having the press roughed up. This will get him the sympathy of the backlash crowd, which he is appealing to in the first place."

"I could see a candidate asking for that kind of treatment, but where do you find the people to throw the rotten eggs and vegetables?"

"Oh, they're around, they're around."

"Well, I think it's a very noble experiment and I can't see how Ghetto Inc. can miss," I said.

"It can't. As a matter of fact, with so many people running for office in 1968, our only fear is that we may run out of ghettos — or, even worse, unwed mothers — before the campaign is over."

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We read in our daily paper of many terrible, drastic things that happen, but there are still a lot of wonderful people in the world, as we have learned through experience, by the serious accident of our son, David.

We wish to sincerely thank Cindy Shepherd, who went for help; the Newell bus driver, Mr. Lawrence, who stopped the bus and covered David with his coat and stayed with him until the ambulance came; the man at the American Legion who phoned for the ambulance; the men who brought the ambulance so quickly; the four doctors with him at the City Hospital; the kind nurses in pediatric ward; those who donated blood, and many others including David's thoughtful, teenage friends for their telephone calls, cards, gifts and flowers (How true the phrase, "They are not all delinquents!). It is people like these that make a rainbow appear after the storm. David is a lucky boy. We are thankful to God, and grateful to all who helped speed his recovery.

There is no guardrail where David fell from the sidewalk over the hill. It seems such a shame that our children have to suffer from "adults" mistakes!

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The future of the community of Pughtown can be greatly enhanced by the pride of the people in the historical background that reaches back to the year of 1810, when Dr. David Pugh laid out a town of 113 lots and called it New Manchester, according to several residents who are interested in bringing back some of this historical atmosphere.

Many people in this community can remember the romantic and historical aspects of New Manchester as these were handed down from generation to generation. It is with pride they relate events that have made their way to history books of the community and surrounding area.

The first important step in restoring the historical atmosphere to this community could be the restoring of the original name of New Manchester. The U. S. Postal authorities are agreeable to this name change and, with the help of interested residents, the erection of street names as they were known back in the days of New Manchester would lend an air of romantic history by knowing these same roads were used by the pioneering settlers of the early 1800's.

Historical markers at the locations of the old "Virginia" and "Manchester" inns, the various business houses such as the blacksmith shops, Hancock County Courier newspaper, churches, etc. will, without a doubt, recall to the minds of the older residents, the history of the original county seat in 1848 when the community was known as New Manchester.

The interested citizens of the community are urged to take part in creating the historical atmosphere this area deserves.

This 'N That

One thing about the late Carl Sandburg that shouldn't be overlooked is the way he blazed a trail for unkempt poets who came later in this century. He dressed like an unmade bed.

The most famous food gift ever sent to the White House was the mammoth 1,600 - pound cheese which was sent to President Thomas Jefferson by a group of Massachusetts admirers.

Observances in November of 1958 marked the 20th anniversary of the Nazi onslaught on Jewish synagogues in Germany. This day became known as "Crystal Day" because of the many glass and crystal objects that were shattered.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Nuclear Power

What may prove to be the most significant event of 1967 in world history is the ensuing effect of an official revelation which measures American and Soviet nuclear strength today and in the future.

The comparison is contained in a carefully prepared speech delivered by Secretary of Defense McNamara in San Francisco to the editors and publishers of United Press International.

Leaders of the Soviet Union will examine the address minutely, and so will the rulers of Red China. When they have digested its contents, they will realize that the United States does not intend to fall behind in the nuclear-arms race.

It is willing to apply limitations on further development, but these can never be agreed upon and applied unless there is mutual trust and a readiness to allow constant inspection.

Mr. McNamara's positive statements about the capability of the United States and the Soviet Union to destroy each other are terrifying, particularly the observation that "if man is to have a future at all, it will have to be a future overshadowed with the permanent possibility of thermonuclear holocaust."

THE DEFENSE secretary, explaining our "assured destruction capability," made it clear the United States "must be able to absorb the total weight of nuclear attack on our country" and retaliate so effectively as to destroy the aggressor.

He said deterrence of nuclear aggression means "the certainty of suicide to the aggressor — not merely to his military forces, but to his society as a whole."

Mr. McNamara defined "first-strike capability" as the substantial elimination of a retaliatory strike by the nation that is attacked. He declared:

"The United States cannot — and will not — ever permit itself to get into the position in which another nation, or combination of nations, would possess such a first-strike capability, which could be effectively used against it. . . .

"Now, we are not in that position today — and there is no foreseeable danger of our ever getting into that position."

The secretary of defense emphasized that the Soviet Union does not possess a "first-strike capability" against the United States and is not likely to acquire it "in the foreseeable future."

The reason he gave is that the United States intends to remain alert and "will never permit our own assured destruction capability is a point where a Soviet first-strike capability is even remotely feasible."

At the same time, Mr. McNamara conceded that the United States does not possess a "first-strike capability" against the Soviet Union either. He declared that once war starts it would mean a devastating retaliation which no nation would wish to risk.

Lately, there has been much talk about the failure of the United States to build an antiballistic-missile system to counter Russia's advance in that field. Mr. McNamara is willing to accede partially to the demands of those members of Congress and military men who have been arguing all along for such a system.

BUT THE secretary prefers to speak of it as a defense against Red China. He insists that the United States "must maintain substantial conventional forces," too, to protect its interests in other parts of the world.

Unquestionably, President Johnson read the McNamara speech beforehand, and so did his advisers.

The decision to make it presumably was based on the theory that it is better to bring all the facts out into the open now so that, as Mr. McNamara phrased it, the United States could "come to a realistic and reasonably risk-less agreement with the Soviet Union, which would effectively prevent such an arms race."

Senate GOP Leaders Press 2 Colleagues On Tax Bills

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Republican leaders plan to redouble their efforts to persuade two GOP colleagues to vote in line on taxes.

If this fails, the next GOP strategy is to secure at least two tax votes from the Democratic side.

This plan was distilled from lengthy meetings Wednesday between Republican leaders from the House and Senate and Gov. Shafer.

Shafer also met with Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline to get the tax dispute off dead center, but the Beaver County Democrats came away in a pessimistic mood.

"The Democrats are asking for too much," House Speaker Kenneth B. Lee countered later.

Both Republican-controlled chambers met Wednesday, but took no action on tax bills.

The Senate GOP holdouts are Sens. William B. Lentz of Dauphin, and Richard S. Green of Cambria. They have declined to vote for House-passed bills to raise taxes on cigarettes and corporate net incomes.

Lentz has vowed not to vote for any tax increases. Green wants to see the entire tax package in the Senate before making up his mind.

Minority Senate Democrats also oppose the idea of voting on tax bills on a "piecemeal basis."

Meanwhile, the Senate will be in solo session the next two weeks in hope of reaching a solution on the tax impasse.

Several business and consumer tax measures remain in the House, but that chamber is in recess until Oct. 9 because several members and aides plan to attend the National Legislative Conference in San Antonio, Tex.

Lee stated, however, that if the tax problem in the Senate dissolves, he will immediately call the House back into session.

Shafer, who curtailed a European trade mission because of the tax crisis, contends that $285 million in new and increased taxes is needed to balance his $1.79 billion budget.

Suspensions Set In Traffic Cases

LISBON — Four youths had to surrender their drivers' licenses for varying periods following juvenile traffic hearings Tuesday at the Courthouse here. They are:

Stephen D. Koch, 17, of New Waterford, and Michael P. Lee, 17, of Sebring, both cited for speeding, 30 and 25 days, respectively; Timothy O. Baillie, 16, of 155 Brookview Dr., Salem, stop sign violation, 10 days, and Catherine S. Dieringer, 16, of Minerva RD 2, failure to stop in an assured clear distance, 10 days.

Fined $10 each were Charlotte R. Hawk, 16, of 1219 Center St., East Liverpool, no operator's license, and Edward G. Balogh, 17, of North Benton, failure to signal a turn.

Robert F. Brunner, 16, of Youngstown, cited for leaving the scene of an accident, and Terry W. Dunn, 16, of St. Clair Ave. Ext., East Liverpool RD 4, charged with speeding — 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone —received warnings.

Bill Hits $10 Million Daily

Costs Of Ohio Government Rise

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The cost of running Ohio's government has soared to almost four times what it was 15 years ago. The bill is about $10 million each day.

The state's finance director blames inflation for the rise. And, he pointed out that Ohio must spend money to make money.

An Associated Press survey showed that appropriations for the 1951-53 biennium were $1.5 billion, compared with the $4.4 billion spent in the two years which ended last June 30.

The 1967-69 budget calls for spending more than $5 1-3 billion.

RECORDS SHOW spending has gone up each year since 1950.

In 1950, Ohio spent $702 million. The total cracked the $1 billion mark with $1.2 billion in fiscal 1955. The first $2 billion year was 1966.

The staggering figures can be "misleading," Krabach points out. The totals include self-sustaining rotary funds such as liquor, highway safety and other funds outside the general revenue fund.

In the budget for the 1967-69 biennium, spending from the general fund will total $2.04 billion. Additionally, highway purpose funds—kept separately because of a constitutional requirement — will account for $1.19 billion.

Rotaries will be tapped for $861 million, capital improvements will cost $101.9 million, bond retirement $275 million, and $555 million will be distributed to local governments.

"This may sound big—and it is," Krabach admits. "We're here to provide services and not just to distribute wealth, as perhaps the federal government is."

Democrats question Krabach's observations. They say Gov. James A. Rhodes will go down in history as "one of the greatest spending governors in Ohio history."

KRABACH DEFENDS Ohio's spending by explaining that Ohio must compete with other states to expand its economy. More revenue must come in to avoid increasing taxes, he said.

"The more industry you have, the more workers you have and therefore you get more taxpayers," the director said.

He said a recent $300 million tax increase voted by the legislature was "'not needed" to finance government operations. It was earmarked for education.

"'We had a balanced budget," Krabach said. "If the legislature had not enacted the school taxes, government in Ohio would have gone right along."

Krabach said Ohio is "the only state" among industrial states which has not had to raise taxes in the last six years to pay for running government operations. "Illinois raised taxes $760 million a year, California $900 million, just to name a couple," he said.

Krabach, architect of Rhodes' austerity program when the governor took office in 1963 noted that only about seven per cent of the current budget is allocated for running state offices and departments. "The figure was 11 per cent when we came into office," he said.

—:—

HE ATTRIBUTED Rhodes' big spending on captial improvements—about $1 billion is completed, planned, or under way—to "years of neglect. The state had no capital improvement program at all."

The finance chief said five years ago buildings were "falling apart" at state universities and "roofs coming off our hospitals. Our hospitals today are in the best shape they've ever been in."

He called Rhodes' allocations for higher education—about $327 million in the current biennium —"the most put into the colleges since the state was created in 1803."

Officials of the last Democratic administration see not such a rosy picture of Rhodes' spending policies. They continue to deny a Krabach claim the administration inherited an $83 million deficit from Democrats in 1963.

"A myth," said James H. Maloon, finance director during the administration from 1959-1963 of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. "That claim was and is a simple fabrication," Maloon said, asserting the DiSalle administration reduced the state debt $84.5 million.

Maloon noted that the four-fold increase in spending occurred during the administration of four governors but that only one, DiSalle, gained the reputation of being a spender.

"The record, on the other hand, shows that of the four, the one so known was in fact the one whose budgets showed the lowest rate of increase."

MALOON SAID the first DiSalle budget reflected an increase from the pervious two years of 3.2 per cent and the second an increase of 6.9 per cent.

"Even though the Rhodes budgetary policies have been labeled 'austere' they show a resumption of accelerated growth in total expenditures. Thus, the appropriations for the first Rhodes' budget were $243 million or 11.5 per cent above the second DiSalle budget. The second Rhodes budget was embodied in appropriations showing the largest dollar increase in the history of the state—an increase of $652 million over his first budget—an increase of 27.6 per cent," Maloon said.

He also hit at "the administration's policy of deficit financing'" through the $1 billion in bond issues approved by voters since Rhodes took office.

Maloon estimated its cost for the 1965-67 biennium at $496 million and said he was intrigued by "vast deficit financing during this time of prosperity."

Krabach maintains, on the other hand, that the bond issues afford the state an opportunity to meet vital construction needs without more taxes and that they represent a sound approach because they can be paid off with revenue resulting from Ohio's economic growth.

Rhodes Hints At Bond Issue To Finance Pollution Control

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio voters may be asked next May to approve a bond issue to finance air and water pollution control efforts, Gov. James A. Rhodes hinted Wednesday.

Speaking at the Ohio Municipal League convention here, Rhodes noted that the legislature has made plans for attacking the pollution problems and "in all probability a mode for doing this will go before Ohio voters next May. No tax increase is involved."

The governor also said a proposal for a state housing commission is in the works and that a rat control program is being planned.

"One - fourth of the housing in Ohio urban areas is substandard," Rhodes said. "Clearly indicated is a need for a state housing commission. In all probability, legislation establishing a state rotary fund for planning and initiating programs for housing will be prescribed.

"We are formulating a request to the Ohio State University Agricultural Research and Development Center for development of a rat control program for urban areas."

The three - day Municipal League convention began Wednesday. Today, several organizations meeting in connection with the convention announced the election of new officers.

New officers of the Ohio Municipal Attorneys Association are City Solicitor Carl Williams of Tiffin, president; Toledo Law Director Louis Young, vice president; Troy City Solicitor Frank Basler, secretary-treasurer.

The Ohio League of Civil Service Commissions elected Francis J. Hogan of Cleveland, president, William R. Byrd of Dayton, vice president, and Carole J. Gillota of Warren as secretary-treasurer.

The new president of the Ohio City Managers Association is Sam Gray of Zanesville. Tom Bay of Westerville is vice president, Dale Helsel of Painesville, secretary-treasurer.

E. L. Alexander of Marysville was elected president of the Municipal Clerks' Association. Lucille V. Bossert of Evendale is the new vice president, Catherine Lederer of Heath, secretary, and Elsie Roush of Amberly, treasurer.

Voter Signup Tempo Gains

Imminence of the deadline has brought a new increase in the number of East Liverpool voters registered for the Nov. 7 general election, the County Election Board reported today.

Forty-four registrations were listed in the week ending Wednesday, along with 22 transfers —changes of address.

The deadline will fall next Wednesday. Persons not enrolled at that time will deprive themselves of a voice in election of a mayor and other municipal officials.

As part of the all-out enrollment drive that was launched early in September, branch registration offices are operating today at the Thorofare Market on Pennsylvania Ave., the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store downtown and the Pleasant Heights Fire Station. Two deputy registrars are on duty at each site.

The branch registration offices will operate until 8 tonight. They also will function again Monday from 10 a. m. until 8 p. m. at the same three spots.

Voters may also register daily at the Election Board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall.

The board's office will operate on a continuous 12 - hour schedule next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to help accommodate the last - minute rush. The office will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. for the last three days of the registration campaign.

Bill Hits $10 Million Daily

Costs Of Ohio Government Rise

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The cost of running Ohio's government has soared to almost four times what it was 15 years ago. The bill is about $10 million each day.

The state's finance director blames inflation for the rise. And, he pointed out that Ohio must spend money to make money.

An Associated Press survey showed that appropriations for the 1951-53 biennium were $1.5 billion, compared with the $4.4 billion spent in the two years which ended last June 30.

The 1967-69 budget calls for spending more than $5 1-3 billion.

RECORDS SHOW spending has gone up each year since 1950.

In 1950, Ohio spent $702 million. The total cracked the $1 billion mark with $1.2 billion in fiscal 1955. The first $2 billion year was 1966.

The staggering figures can be "misleading," Krabach points out. The totals include self-sustaining rotary funds such as liquor, highway safety and other funds outside the general revenue fund.

In the budget for the 1967-69 biennium, spending from the general fund will total $2.04 billion. Additionally, highway purpose funds—kept separately because of a constitutional requirement — will account for $1.19 billion.

Rotaries will be tapped for $861 million, capital improvements will cost $101.9 million, bond retirement $275 million, and $555 million will be distributed to local governments.

"This may sound big—and it is," Krabach admits. "We're here to provide services and not just to distribute wealth, as perhaps the federal government is."

Democrats question Krabach's observations. They say Gov. James A. Rhodes will go down in history as "one of the greatest spending governors in Ohio history."

KRABACH DEFENDS Ohio's spending by explaining that Ohio must compete with other states to expand its economy. More revenue must come in to avoid increasing taxes, he said.

"The more industry you have, the more workers you have and therefore you get more taxpayers," the director said.

He said a recent $300 million tax increase voted by the legislature was "'not needed" to finance government operations. It was earmarked for education.

"'We had a balanced budget," Krabach said. "If the legislature had not enacted the school taxes, government in Ohio would have gone right along."

Krabach said Ohio is "the only state" among industrial states which has not had to raise taxes in the last six years to pay for running government operations. "Illinois raised taxes $760 million a year, California $900 million, just to name a couple," he said.

Krabach, architect of Rhodes' austerity program when the governor took office in 1963 noted that only about seven per cent of the current budget is allocated for running state offices and departments. "The figure was 11 per cent when we came into office," he said.

—:—

HE ATTRIBUTED Rhodes' big spending on captial improvements—about $1 billion is completed, planned, or under way—to "years of neglect. The state had no capital improvement program at all."

The finance chief said five years ago buildings were "falling apart" at state universities and "roofs coming off our hospitals. Our hospitals today are in the best shape they've ever been in."

He called Rhodes' allocations for higher education—about $327 million in the current biennium —"the most put into the colleges since the state was created in 1803."

Officials of the last Democratic administration see not such a rosy picture of Rhodes' spending policies. They continue to deny a Krabach claim the administration inherited an $83 million deficit from Democrats in 1963.

"A myth," said James H. Maloon, finance director during the administration from 1959-1963 of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. "That claim was and is a simple fabrication," Maloon said, asserting the DiSalle administration reduced the state debt $84.5 million.

"'The record, on the other hand, shows that of the four, the one so known was in fact the one whose budgets showed the lowest rate of increase."

MALOON SAID the first DiSalle budget reflected an increase from the pervious two years of 3.2 per cent and the second an increase of 6.9 per cent.

"Even though the Rhodes budgetary policies have been labeled 'austere' they show a resumption of accelerated growth in total expenditures. Maloon estimated its cost for the 1965-67 biennium at $496 million and said he was intrigued by "vast deficit financing during this time of prosperity."

Krabach maintains, on the other hand, that the bond issues afford the state an opportunity to meet vital construction needs without more taxes and that they represent a sound approach because they can be paid off with revenue resulting from Ohio's economic growth.

Medical Society Auxiliary Sponsors Its Opening Tea

A review of the forthcoming season was heard during the opening tea of the Women's Auxiliary to the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday afternoon at the Columbiana Women's Club.

Mrs. K. S. Ulicny, president, presented the review following the distribution of new program booklets. She emphasized plans for community service - type programs.

The meeting was opened with the Auxiliary pledge led by Mrs. Ulicny.

Mrs. R. V. Rankis, chairman, announced orders are being taken for rose bushes for spring planting, with proceeds designated for the American Medical Education and Research Foundation.

The fall conference will be held Sept. 28-29 at the Downtown Hotel in Canton.

Hostesses were Mrs. Hubert Keylor, Mrs. T. A. King and Mrs. C. W. DeWalt.

The next session will be Oct. 24 instead of Oct. 17 as erroneously stated in the program booklet. This will be a 1 p.m. luncheon at the Salem Golf Club. An international bazaar will be held for the benefit of the Columbiana County School for Retarded Children at Elkton.

History Of Constitution Given At DAR Luncheon

A detailed account of the forming of the Constitution was given by Mrs. Wallace B. Heiser of Lakewood when she spoke during the luncheon meeting of Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Tuesday afternoon at the Country Club.

She is state vice regent and visited in conjunction with the annual observance of "Constitution Week."

Mrs. Arthur Cloran, regent, welcomed the members and guests from chapters in Salem, Lisbon and Wellsville.

Mrs. William E. Kaiser led the flag salute. The group sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, president - general, will be the speaker. Mrs. Carl Keitzmen, state regent, will preside.

The annual thrift sale is scheduled Oct. 9-11 in the building at E. 6th and Washington Sts. Mrs. Cloran is chairman.

Covers were arranged for 43 at tables covered with gold color linen cloths and decorated with fall fruits, flowers and leaves. Primitive antiques, belonging to Mrs. William Cooper, provided highlights.

Mrs. Cloran and Mrs. T. G. Ryan were in charge of decorations and Mrs. Earl Lones the reservations.

A program on the approved schools will be presented during the next session Oct. 9 with Mrs. Homer Huston of Blackmore St.

Tickets Being Sold For Pitt, Notre Dame

Tickets will be sold to members until Oct. 14 for the Nov. 11 football game between the University of Pittsburgh and Notre Dame, it was announced during Tuesday night's meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507.

After that date, tickets will be available to the public, John Cataldo and Frank Roberts, chairmen, said.

In other business, Sam Amato reported on the "Operation Youth" program.

Dan Osborne said the party for members of the club's minor league baseball team will be held Oct. 5 at the home. Baseball and football films will be screened.

Phil LaScola, deputy grand knight, presided.

Crusty French- or Italian-style bread freezes and heats well. Because this type of bread stales fast, freezing it when it is fresh means that you can keep it conveniently on hand.

Truckers

and in the five - state region where the trucker strike has begun to cut into steel mill production.

One trucker was shot at just east of Wellsville on Route 7, two more on Route 30 west of Lisbon and a fourth near Leetonia — all since midnight.

Similar incidents were reported on Route 22 in Jefferson County and in Trumbull County.

Meanwhile, steel continued to pile up at mills throughout the east, despite increased use of railroad shipments, and Republic Steel — the nation's third-largest steel producer — reported it will have idled 2,500 of its 7,000 workers by Saturday.

Production was not effected yet at the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Division, where railroad use has been expanded.

The Ohio Highway Patrol reported four tires on a tractor-trailer rig operated by Charles Ball, 57, of Huntington, W. Va., were flattened by bullets fired from an auto behind him on Route 7 about 4:30 a. m. just east of Wellsville.

Ball said the car pulled behind him and several shots were fired at the rig, owned by Cook Motor Lines of Akron and loaded with nickel.

The patrol at Lisbon said two drivers for the Suwak Trucking Co. of Washington, Pa., reported being fired upon in the Route 30 Rock Camp area.

Lawrence Willis, 35, of Scenery Hill, Pa., told officers his rig, hauling miscellaneous freight from Washington, Pa., to Cleveland was fired upon from a grassy area on the north side at 2:45 a. m.

Right behind was another Suwak truck driven by Charles Bailes, 31, of Washington, who said he saw flashes from the same area and heard shots and something hit under his rig.

Anthony Harvey, 51, of Youngstown told the patrol his Keystone Transportation Co. rig, hauling food for a Lisbon supermarket, was fired upon but not hit on Route 344 between Columbiana and Leetonia at 7 a. m.

In another incident, patrol officers at Wintersville said a truck operated by Joseph Gale Redmond, driver for Hume's Transport of Steubenville, was fired at from an auto on Route 22 just east of the Jefferson County line.

Redmond said six or seven rounds were fired from a 1963 or 1964 light blue auto. There was no damage found on the vehicle.

No new incidents were reported in Beaver County.

In Trumbull County, four tires were punctured on a truck driven by James Parson, 42, of Pittsburgh.

Parson said a car moved into the passing lane on Ohio 5 and fired on his rig. The car then turned around and went back towards Warren, he told the patrol.

Parsons, driving a truck owned by the Oyler Motor Transit Co. of Canton, drove on to a truck stop near the Ohio Turnpike. The patrol said the shots went through the tires.

The truckers, who own and operate their rigs and lease them out to trucking companies, are fighting with the Teamsters Union for higher rates and pay for the time they sit idle in mills waiting to get loaded.

An estimated 10,000 trucks are sitting still. Many truckers who aren't on strike are, nevertheless, keeping off the highways for fear of getting shot at.

Wednesday, a picket was shot in the stomach from a truck at an interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Maryland state police picked up a man and charged him with assault with intent to kill.

Police said a passing car cut loose with a hail of bullets at a truck moving near Ashland, Ohio.

U.S. Steel Corp. has furloughed one - fifth of its 3,500 - man work force at its nearby Irvin Works. Other steelmakers have announced production cutbacks and furloughs.

A trucker on the Pennsylvania Turnpike said he fired a few shotgun blasts at men who dropped rocks on his truck.

Nellie Tayloe Ross became the first woman governor in the United States when she succeeded her husband, William B. Ross in Wyoming after his death in 1925, and served two years. In 1933, Mrs. Ross also became the first woman to hold the position of director of the United States Mint, serving in this post, until 1953.

More Admitted And Treated As Result Of Varied Mishaps

A Chester resident injured playing football, a city youth hurt while playing and a New Cumberland area woman injured in a fall were admitted to City Hospital, where 12 others were treated.

William Humphreys, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Humphreys of 425 Elm St., is in "'fair" condition with a possible head injury sustained while playing.

Terry Cerasi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cerasi of 454 Ohio Ave., Midland, a laceration of the chin while roller skating; Robert Adkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Collis Adkins of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., scalds of the chest on hot coffee.

Alice Banks of 225 E. 3rd St., a laceration of the forehead in a fall against a table at home; Sharon Beagle, daughter of Mr. nd Mrs. Oscar Beagle of 519 1st Ave., a laceration of the upper lip in a fall down steps.

Cheryl Louise Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell of 1901 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, a small laceration of the forehead on a rock; Carl Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson of 5th Ave., LaCroft, a contusion of the left forearm in a fall in an alley.

Medical Society Auxiliary Sponsors Its Opening Tea

A review of the forthcoming season was heard during the opening tea of the Women's Auxiliary to the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday afternoon at the Columbiana Women's Club.

Mrs. K. S. Ulicny, president, presented the review following the distribution of new program booklets. She emphasized plans for community service - type programs.

The meeting was opened with the Auxiliary pledge led by Mrs. Ulicny.

Mrs. R. V. Rankis, chairman, announced orders are being taken for rose bushes for spring planting, with proceeds designated for the American Medical Education and Research Foundation.

The fall conference will be held Sept. 28-29 at the Downtown Hotel in Canton.

Hostesses were Mrs. Hubert Keylor, Mrs. T. A. King and Mrs. C. W. DeWalt.

The next session will be Oct. 24 instead of Oct. 17 as erroneously stated in the program booklet. This will be a 1 p.m. luncheon at the Salem Golf Club. An international bazaar will be held for the benefit of the Columbiana County School for Retarded Children at Elkton.

History Of Constitution Given At DAR Luncheon

A detailed account of the forming of the Constitution was given by Mrs. Wallace B. Heiser of Lakewood when she spoke during the luncheon meeting of Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Tuesday afternoon at the Country Club.

She is state vice regent and visited in conjunction with the annual observance of "Constitution Week."

Mrs. Arthur Cloran, regent, welcomed the members and guests from chapters in Salem, Lisbon and Wellsville.

Mrs. William E. Kaiser led the flag salute. The group sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, president - general, will be the speaker. Mrs. Carl Keitzmen, state regent, will preside.

The annual thrift sale is scheduled Oct. 9-11 in the building at E. 6th and Washington Sts. Mrs. Cloran is chairman.

Covers were arranged for 43 at tables covered with gold color linen cloths and decorated with fall fruits, flowers and leaves. Primitive antiques, belonging to Mrs. William Cooper, provided highlights.

Mrs. Cloran and Mrs. T. G. Ryan were in charge of decorations and Mrs. Earl Lones the reservations.

A program on the approved schools will be presented during the next session Oct. 9 with Mrs. Homer Huston of Blackmore St.

Tickets Being Sold For Pitt, Notre Dame

Tickets will be sold to members until Oct. 14 for the Nov. 11 football game between the University of Pittsburgh and Notre Dame, it was announced during Tuesday night's meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507.

After that date, tickets will be available to the public, John Cataldo and Frank Roberts, chairmen, said.

In other business, Sam Amato reported on the "Operation Youth" program.

Dan Osborne said the party for members of the club's minor league baseball team will be held Oct. 5 at the home. Baseball and football films will be screened.

Phil LaScola, deputy grand knight, presided.

Truckers

and in the five - state region where the trucker strike has begun to cut into steel mill production.

One trucker was shot at just east of Wellsville on Route 7, two more on Route 30 west of Lisbon and a fourth near Leetonia — all since midnight.

Similar incidents were reported on Route 22 in Jefferson County and in Trumbull County.

Meanwhile, steel continued to pile up at mills throughout the east, despite increased use of railroad shipments, and Republic Steel — the nation's third-largest steel producer — reported it will have idled 2,500 of its 7,000 workers by Saturday.

Production was not effected yet at the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Division, where railroad use has been expanded.

The Ohio Highway Patrol reported four tires on a tractor-trailer rig operated by Charles Ball, 57, of Huntington, W. Va., were flattened by bullets fired from an auto behind him on Route 7 about 4:30 a. m. just east of Wellsville.

Ball said the car pulled behind him and several shots were fired at the rig, owned by Cook Motor Lines of Akron and loaded with nickel.

The patrol at Lisbon said two drivers for the Suwak Trucking Co. of Washington, Pa., reported being fired upon in the Route 30 Rock Camp area.

Lawrence Willis, 35, of Scenery Hill, Pa., told officers his rig, hauling miscellaneous freight from Washington, Pa., to Cleveland was fired upon from a grassy area on the north side at 2:45 a. m.

Right behind was another Suwak truck driven by Charles Bailes, 31, of Washington, who said he saw flashes from the same area and heard shots and something hit under his rig.

Anthony Harvey, 51, of Youngstown told the patrol his Keystone Transportation Co. rig, hauling food for a Lisbon supermarket, was fired upon but not hit on Route 344 between Columbiana and Leetonia at 7 a. m.

In another incident, patrol officers at Wintersville said a truck operated by Joseph Gale Redmond, driver for Hume's Transport of Steubenville, was fired at from an auto on Route 22 just east of the Jefferson County line.

Redmond said six or seven rounds were fired from a 1963 or 1964 light blue auto. There was no damage found on the vehicle.

No new incidents were reported in Beaver County.

In Trumbull County, four tires were punctured on a truck driven by James Parson, 42, of Pittsburgh.

Parson said a car moved into the passing lane on Ohio 5 and fired on his rig. The car then turned around and went back towards Warren, he told the patrol.

Parsons, driving a truck owned by the Oyler Motor Transit Co. of Canton, drove on to a truck stop near the Ohio Turnpike. The patrol said the shots went through the tires.

The truckers, who own and operate their rigs and lease them out to trucking companies, are fighting with the Teamsters Union for higher rates and pay for the time they sit idle in mills waiting to get loaded.

An estimated 10,000 trucks are sitting still. Many truckers who aren't on strike are, nevertheless, keeping off the highways for fear of getting shot at.

Wednesday, a picket was shot in the stomach from a truck at an interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Maryland state police picked up a man and charged him with assault with intent to kill.

Police said a passing car cut loose with a hail of bullets at a truck moving near Ashland, Ohio.

U.S. Steel Corp. has furloughed one - fifth of its 3,500 - man work force at its nearby Irvin Works. Other steelmakers have announced production cutbacks and furloughs.

A trucker on the Pennsylvania Turnpike said he fired a few shotgun blasts at men who dropped rocks on his truck.

Nellie Tayloe Ross became the first woman governor in the United States when she succeeded her husband, William B. Ross in Wyoming after his death in 1925, and served two years. In 1933, Mrs. Ross also became the first woman to hold the position of director of the United States Mint, serving in this post, until 1953.

Among the biggest ovens known to man are kilns for firing ceramic tile. U.S. ceramic tile makers use kilns that measure more than 100 feet long and have temperatures exceeding 2,000 degrees. Ceramic tiles are carefully stacked on specially made long trains that travel through the oven tunnels at almost imperceptible rates, sometimes taking more than 48 hours to make the trip.

Jeri Lynn Russell Weds Lt. John Matthew Brown

A white crepe gown designed in "tent" style was worn by Miss Jeri Lynn Russell when she became the bride of Lt. John Matthew Brown Sept. 9 at 2 p. m. in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Russell of 818 Morton St. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown of 929 Bank St.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of white carnations and snapdragons, palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. William O. Sutherland presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a cowl neckline which dipped to a "V" in the back. The Watteau train was attached to a bow at the shoulders.

Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a queen's crown of crystals and pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses and orchids placed upon a Bible belonging to Mrs. James Bussard. In observing the traditions, she borrowed a silver necklace from Mrs. Rita McCoy.

Miss Sally Bussard, maid of honor, wore a burgundy color crepe "tent" dress styled with a cowl neckline. She had matching shoes and petal headpiece with a circular veil.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joan Lipps, sister of the bride, and Miss Brenda McCullough, cousin of the bridegroom. They appeared in dresses styled identical to that of the maid of honor, but in pink with matching headpieces and shoes.

All the attendants carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations and pink roses tied with satin streamers. Gifts from the bride were silver bell necklaces.

Robin Lipps, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pink gown with ruffled bow headpiece. She carried a basket of rose petals and received a sterling silver locket from the bride.

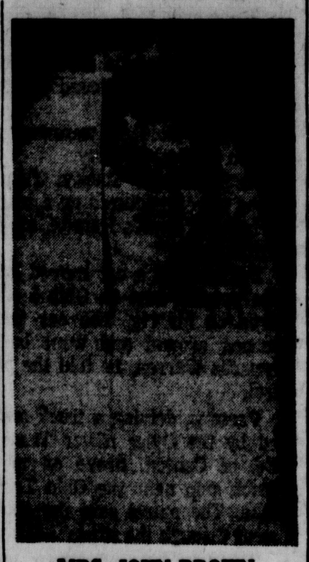
The mother of the bride chose a poudre blue crepe dress with matching jacket and black accessories and the bridegroom's mother an avacado color brocade dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories. Their costumes were complemented with pink rosebud corsages.



MRS. JOHN BROWN
Rites Held At Church.

Mrs. Olga Buchholtz, grandmother of the bride, was attired in a slate blue crepe jacket dress with black accessories and pink rosebud corsage.

A RECEPTION for 125 followed in Hilbert Hall, where the bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations, pink roses and fernery. The buffet table was highlighted with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple and flanked by lighted tapers.

Aides were Mrs. Carl Porter, Mrs. James Allison, Mrs. Rita McCoy, Mrs. Mary McCullough, Mrs. Dorothy Edwards and Mrs. Janet Nottingham.

The newlyweds are graduates of East Liverpool High School, the bride in 1967 and her husband in 1964. She is a student at the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture.

The bridegroom completed officer candidate school at Ft. Sill, Okla., and is an executive officer with the Pershing Missile Unit. Upon conclusion of his furlough, he will report to Ft. Jackson, S. C., for overseas assignment. His wife will remain with her parents until his return from overseas.

The bridegroom's parents entertained for the rehearsal party. The buffet table was centered with a wedding bell. Aides were Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. McCullough and Miss Terri Nottingham.

Jeri Lynn Russell Weds Lt. John Matthew Brown

A white crepe gown designed in "tent" style was worn by Miss Jeri Lynn Russell when she became the bride of Lt. John Matthew Brown Sept. 9 at 2 p. m. in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Russell of 818 Morton St. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown of 929 Bank St.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of white carnations and snapdragons, palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. William O. Sutherland presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a cowl neckline which dipped to a "V" in the back. The Watteau train was attached to a bow at the shoulders.

Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a queen's crown of crystals and pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses and orchids placed upon a Bible belonging to Mrs. James Bussard. In observing the traditions, she borrowed a silver necklace from Mrs. Rita McCoy.

Miss Sally Bussard, maid of honor, wore a burgundy color crepe "tent" dress styled with a cowl neckline. She had matching shoes and petal headpiece with a circular veil.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joan Lipps, sister of the bride, and Miss Brenda McCullough, cousin of the bridegroom. They appeared in dresses styled identical to that of the maid of honor, but in pink with matching headpieces and shoes.

All the attendants carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations and pink roses tied with satin streamers. Gifts from the bride were silver bell necklaces.

Robin Lipps, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pink gown with ruffled bow headpiece. She carried a basket of rose petals and received a sterling silver locket from the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a poudre blue crepe dress with matching jacket and black accessories and the bridegroom's mother an avacado color brocade dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories. Their costumes were complemented with pink rosebud corsages.

MRS. JOHN BROWN
Rites Held At Church.

Mrs. Olga Buchholtz, grandmother of the bride, was attired in a slate blue crepe jacket dress with black accessories and pink rosebud corsage.

A RECEPTION for 125 followed in Hilbert Hall, where the bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations, pink roses and fernery. The buffet table was highlighted with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple and flanked by lighted tapers.

Aides were Mrs. Carl Porter, Mrs. James Allison, Mrs. Rita McCoy, Mrs. Mary McCullough, Mrs. Dorothy Edwards and Mrs. Janet Nottingham.

The newlyweds are graduates of East Liverpool High School, the bride in 1967 and her husband in 1964. She is a student at the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture.

The bridegroom completed officer candidate school at Ft. Sill, Okla., and is an executive officer with the Pershing Missile Unit. Upon conclusion of his furlough, he will report to Ft. Jackson, S. C., for overseas assignment. His wife will remain with her parents until his return from overseas.

The bridegroom's parents entertained for the rehearsal party. The buffet table was centered with a wedding bell. Aides were Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. McCullough and Miss Terri Nottingham.

The open church ceremony will take place Saturday at 7:30 p. m. at the Salineville Church of Christ, with the Rev. Rick Beam officiating for the double-ring rites. A half-hour recital of wedding music will precede the ceremony. An open reception will follow in the social rooms.

Miss Johnson, a graduate of Salineville High School and the Aultman Hospital School of Nursing, is employed by Dr. James Ward of Canton.

Her fiance was graduated from Baltimore Polytechnic Institute and received his bachelor of civil engineering degree from George University of Technology. He is employed as a structural engineer with Macomber, Inc., of Canton.

Colemans Reside In Yonkers After Sept. 2 Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. David A. Coleman are residing in a newly-furnished home in Yonkers, N. Y., following their marriage Sept. 2 at the Aldersgate Methodist Church of Irvington, N. Y.

The bride was Mrs. Merry Mewhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Whiting of Irvington, N. Y. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clair Coleman of W. 3rd St.

Miss Leslie Novick of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., was maid of honor and Gary Coleman, brother of the bridegroom, best man.

Coleman, a graduate of East Liverpool High School, taught in the local school system. He is associate editor of the American Guild of Organists Magazine of New York City. His wife is an art teacher in the Irvington School System.

Couple Resides In Chevy Chase After Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. James Michael Giambroni are residing at 1010 Riviera Apartments, 4242 East-West Highway, Chevy Chase, Md., following a honeymoon in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

The bride is the former Miss Judith Anne Turney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Turney of Saratoga Springs, N. Y. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giambroni of Midland.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Schultz at a nuptial Mass celebrated at St. Clement's Catholic Church at Saratoga Springs. Miss Susan Mills of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white silk organza skimmer banded at the empire waistline with Swiss lace appliques. Angel sleeves were accented with lace. Her detachable chapel-length train was decorated at the corners with appliques of lace. Her matching lace baby cap veiled in chapel - length imported English silk illusion was caught to an organza bow. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and carnations with ivy.

Mrs. Louise Young of Porter Corners, N. Y., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her floor - length, sleeveless light blue linen gown was fashioned with a bodice of white lace and a back panel embroidered in white flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Mary Hendrie of Porter Corners, Mrs. Gerri Bodine of Poughkeepsie and Marion Pokrywka of Poughkeepsie, bridesmaids, were attired identically to the matron of honor. Their headpieces were wreaths of blue flowers with floor-length veils and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

Victor D'Antonio of Washington, D.C., was the best man. Ushers were Brian Hendrie of Porter Corners, the bride's brother - in - law; and Adolphe Bodine and Donald Eagen of Poughkeepsie.

The bride is a graduate of State University College at Oneonta, N. Y., and was employed by the Arlington School District at Poughkeepsie.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson College at Washington, served in the National Guard, and is employed by International Business Machines at Gaithersburg, Md. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Greenland, with its ice and snow and frigid temperatures, is anything but appropriately named. It originally was entitled Greenland by the Scandinavian explorer, Eric the Red, as a means of inducing colonists from Iceland to settle in the new country.

Saratoga National Historical Park has a monument to a wounded leg but not its owner. A stone slab bears a relief of Maj. Gen. Benedict Arnold's boot and epaulet, symbolizing his victory against the British at the Battle of Saratoga. A shot fractured Arnold's leg in the battle. The memorial bears no name because Arnold later betrayed America to the British cause.

Mrs. Ray Alexander 424-5674

LISBON — Mrs. Robert Williams, regent of Lewis Kinney Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. John Blocksom, vice regent, and Mrs. Elaine Hurd, Mrs. Clarence Wetzel, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. Lloyd Hanna, Mrs. James Morrisey, Mrs. Howard Crosser, Miss Dora Lones and Mrs. Richard Andrus attended the Constitution Week observance at the East Liverpool Country Club Tuesday.

The local chapter, along with Phoebe Fraunces of Salem and Bethia Southwick of Wellsville were luncheon guests of Rebecca Griscom Chapter of East Liverpool. Mrs. Wallace Heiser of Lakewood, state vice regent, was guest speaker.

Church Group Meets

Mrs. Hazel Jamison of E. High St., president of the TOC of the First Christian Church, was hostess during the meeting Tuesday night at her home.

A contribution of $25 to the Cleveland Christian Home for Children was approved in place of sending gifts and clothes to one specific child, as in the past.

The next meeting will be Oct. 17 at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Pike of W. Washington St.

Astronaut Armstrong To Dedicate Airport

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)— Astronaut Neil Armstrong will be on hand here Oct. 8 to dedicate an airport which bears his name.

Gov. James A. Rhodes also will attend the ceremonies at the airport near here, the boyhood home of Armstrong.

Brief Walkout Ends At Pan Am Airways

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American World Airways was operating normally today following a brief walkout by several thousand workers.

After a strike Wednesday of about 12 hours, the 7,000 Pan Am workers were recalled to work by the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway and Airlines Clerks at the request of the National Mediation Board.

The strike ostensibly involved a wage dispute but an underlying issue was a representation dispute, still to be settled, between the clerks union and the Teamsters Union.

News Of Salineville

Miss Myrtle Strabley 679-2266

SALINEVILLE — The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Patrick's Church will meet Tuesday in the parish hall. Mrs. Ellen Conlin is president.

Mrs. Stella Gritton has returned from a visit in Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Eish of the Salineville Rd. have returned home following a three-week tour of western states.

Mr. and Mrs. Okey Parsons of East Liverpool visited Sunday with their son-in-law and daughter, Police Chief and Mrs. Gorden Sweeney and family of E. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney have concluded a visit with Mrs. Agnes McLaughlin of Akron, Albert Steveson of Euclid and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sweeney of East Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tolson have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Tolson and family of Indianapolis.

Ten tables were in play during a card party Saturday night at the parish hall of St. Patrick's Church.

Prizes were won by Lawrence Hawkins, Mrs. Pearl Hawkins, Mrs. Emma Eish, Jay Engle and Mrs. Grace Manning.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Margaret Kelley and Mrs. Mary Lou Strabley and committee.

Nigerian Troops Take Over Rebel Capital Of Benin

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian federal troops occupied today the capital of the Republic of Benin, a day-old, self-proclaimed nation that rebelled Wednesday to fight the Lagos government alongside breakaway Biafra.

Lagos forces, greeted by crowds waving palm fronds, entered Benin City and seized a main square, a British government report from the scene said. Firing was heard east of the capital area.

The federal government's advance came only 12 hours after Benin's declaration of independence and was regarded as a major victory in its 10-week old civil war with Biafra, the rebellious Eastern state, and the Midwest.

Biafrans took the Midwest region in August and installed Maj. Albert O. Okonkwo, a U.S.-trained physician married to an American, as administrator. Okonkwo issued Benin's independence statement. then disappeared from sight Wednesday.

Court Order Prevents Filing Of Complaint

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Wood County Common Pleas Court granted Wednesday a restraining order preventing the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. from filing a criminal complaint against Jerrold Electronics Corp. of Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania firm sought the restraining order after the telephone company filed suit against it last week for allegedly stringing televisiion cable over telephone poles in which Northern Ohio had an interest.

Court Order Prevents Filing Of Complaint

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Wood County Common Pleas Court granted Wednesday a restraining order preventing the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. from filing a criminal complaint against Jerrold Electronics Corp. of Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania firm sought the restraining order after the telephone company filed suit against it last week for allegedly stringing televisiion cable over telephone poles in which Northern Ohio had an interest.

Home Care Plan Started

The first patient aided by the new Ohio Valley Home Health Services is shown with Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, registered nurse for the non-profit organization.

Thomas Fulmer, 83, of 1004 Lisbon St. has been bedfast with arthritis for several years, and has developed an infected leg whiich requires periodic dressing.

The new service provides registered nurses in homes on direct orders from the attending physician under Medicare and other programs or for private use at the same rates.

An office was opened this week at 263 W. 7th St. rear from 1 to 5 p.m. daily. Mrs. Edith Barnhart and Mrs. Rinehart are the co-administrators.

Home health benefits under Medicare provide payments to the organization for a visiting nurse, physical therapist.

If a doctor prescribes home health services within 14 days after a person has been in a hospital or extended care facility, the services would be provided under the hospital insurance part of Medicare.

If a person has not been hospitalized and a doctor prescribes the care, the service could be covered by the medical insurance part of Medicare.

Further information is available at the Ohio Valley Home Health Services office or Social Security Administration offices.

A Medicare advisory board assists the group, and is headed by Mrs. Rinehart. It includes Dr. Milton Gottlieb, Dr. John Hayes, Miss Nell Robinson, Miss Selma Ladzinski, Mrs. Floribel Allen, Atty. Joseph Cooper, Diddle, Mrs. Barnhart, Dr. Gilmore and Richard Emmerling.

At present there are two registered nurses providing services, but more will be added. The organization has a charter to provide service in north Hancock County and throughout all of Columbiana County except Perry Township where there is already such a program.

Legion Coaches Group Will Meet

A limited number of membership cards still are available, Francis House said. Proceeds from the sale of the cards will be used for a banquet at the end of the football season, with admission by card only.

Daun Gitschier is president.

Fred W. Heldman Jr. was accepted as a new member at this week's Legion meeting. His father was commander of the post in 1926.

Harry Excell, adjutant, said the membership for 1968 is 121 to date. Other reports were given by Ken Hoover, second vice commander, who said the "Country Singers" will play for the dance Saturday night. Tom Enochs, service officer, George Wilkins, chaplain, and Sam Maylone, finance officer, also presented reports.

The beautification of the post home will be completed before bad weather arrives, Jerome Gitschier, commander, said.

Phillip R. McBride of Cincinnati, department commander, will be guest speaker at the annual Veterans Day banquet Nov. 11.

The next meeting will be Monday at 8:15 p.m.

Industry Area Events

Mrs. Pat Nuzzo 643-4508

"Teachers' Organizations" were discussed by George Mastrovich when the Ray Snyder Parent - Teacher Association held its first meeting of the new term in the school at Industry.

Donald Bradshaw, elementary principal, was honored with a gift presented by Miss Florence Laneve, kindergarten teacher and member of the PTA executive board. He will leave the Western Beaver School District for a position in Center Township.

Teachers were introduced by Bradshaw. Miss Jean Bechdel, third grade; Miss Betty Prodonovich, sixth grade, and Mrs. Helen McCarthy, fifth grade, are the new teachers. Mrs. Melvin Laing has resumed teaching second grade following a year's sabbatical leave.

Mrs. Sam McKinney, president, conducted business. Devotions were led by Mrs. George Kelly.

Mrs. George Anderson read a poem, "September Song."

Members of the executive board were introduced by Mrs. McKinney.

The date for the fourth annual bazaar was announced as Oct. 14 by the Ways and means chairman, Mrs. Michael Gingerella. She introduced individual chairmen for the event and said that mothers and fathers are needed to devote one or two hours time working on any booth.

Mrs. George Blakemore announced that kindergarten mothers will be hostesses for the next meeting Oct. 12. Mrs. Shirley Gailey, Mrs. Martin Shirling, Mrs. Delano Diamond and Mrs. John Nuzzo will be hostess chairmen.

The program chairman, Mrs. Phillip Graham, said that a program on "Our Area" will be presented by Clyde Piquet of Industry, a member of the Beaver County Historical Society.

Mrs. Woodrow Pflugh, librarian, asked for volunteer workers and announced that the libray will be open two days a week this year to service the 460 children enrolled. Fifth and sixth grades will use the library on Wednesdays and first, second, third and fourth on Thursdays.

Attendance was announced by Mrs. Rex Nevill and Mrs. Reed Dawson, with Miss Bechdel's third grade winning the attendance banner.

The executive board will meet Oct. 3 at the home of Mrs. Robert Loncar. Mrs. George Mastrovich will serve as co - chairman.

The approved constitution for congregations was adopted during a congregational meeting Sunday following the worship service at the Ohio View Evangelical Lutheran Church in Industry.

Rev. Arnal will participate in the third Inter - Lutheran theological discussion, a feature of the 450th Reformation anniversary observance next Monday at 10 a. m. at the First Lutheran Church in Pittsburgh. The subject will be "By Faith Alone." Rev. Arnal will discuss recent theological writings.

Edward Madura, a former Thiel College classmate of the pastor, figured in a discussion on religion Sunday at the Adult Fellowship class held in the church study.

Donald Devich of Ohioville, a minister of the Jehovah's Witnesses, will present the beliefs of that denomination next Sunday at 9:30 a. m. The class is studying "Christianity and Other World Religions" and members of the congregation and other interested persons are invited to attend.

A good used washing machine is needed by a family in the area, Rev. Arnal said, and asks that anyone with such a washer contact him.

Study classes on "Twentieth Century Theology and Its Development" began last night from 7 to 8 in Fellowship Hall. The classes, to be held every Wednesday, are being taught by Rev. Arnal, who invites interested persons in the area to attend.

Visitations of the sick and hospitalized this week are being conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Steiner of the Social Ministry Committee.

Man Pays Court Costs In Income Tax Charge

An East End man won dismissal of an income tax charge today in Municipal Court after making a settlement with the income tax office, but paid an additional $8.50 in court costs.

Rayford Johnson of 1234 Chaffin St. was accused of failure to file a final return on 1966 income and an estimate on 1967 earnings. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest when he failed to appear for a hearing Wednesday.

Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson advised the court this morning that Johnson and the tax office had arrived at a settlement. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff dismissed the affidavit, but ordered Johnson to pay the costs — the usual $7.50 plus an additional $1 for the bench warrant.

Noted Canadian Film Producer Shot To Death

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) — A prominent Canadian film producer was shot to death Wednesday as he and a four-man production crew filmed scenes of poverty in this mountainous eastern Kentucky area.

Hugh O'Connor died soon after being hit with a .38-caliber slug in his chest. Hobart Ison, 69, of the Jeremiah community, was charged with murder. A hearing was set for this afternoon.

The 46-year-old Montreal native was on leave from the Canadian National Film Board to produce a film on "All Walks of Life in the United States" for Francis Thompson, Inc., a New York City firm that specializes in educational documentaries.

Ison owns a cluster of houses at a coal mine camp about five miles north of here on Ky. Route 7. It was this cluster of shacks that the crew was filming when O'Connor was shot to death.

Industry Area Events

Mrs. Pat Nuzzo 643-4508

"Teachers' Organizations" were discussed by George Mastrovich when the Ray Snyder Parent - Teacher Association held its first meeting of the new term in the school at Industry.

Donald Bradshaw, elementary principal, was honored with a gift presented by Miss Florence Laneve, kindergarten teacher and member of the PTA executive board. He will leave the Western Beaver School District for a position in Center Township.

Teachers were introduced by Bradshaw. Miss Jean Bechdel, third grade; Miss Betty Prodonovich, sixth grade, and Mrs. Helen McCarthy, fifth grade, are the new teachers. Mrs. Melvin Laing has resumed teaching second grade following a year's sabbatical leave.

Mrs. Sam McKinney, president, conducted business. Devotions were led by Mrs. George Kelly.

Members of the executive board were introduced by Mrs. McKinney.

The date for the fourth annual bazaar was announced as Oct. 14 by the Ways and means chairman, Mrs. Michael Gingerella. She introduced individual chairmen for the event and said that mothers and fathers are needed to devote one or two hours time working on any booth.

Mrs. George Blakemore announced that kindergarten mothers will be hostesses for the next meeting Oct. 12. Mrs. Shirley Gailey, Mrs. Martin Shirling, Mrs. Delano Diamond and Mrs. John Nuzzo will be hostess chairmen.

The program chairman, Mrs. Phillip Graham, said that a program on "Our Area" will be presented by Clyde Piquet of Industry, a member of the Beaver County Historical Society.

Mrs. Woodrow Pflugh, librarian, asked for volunteer workers and announced that the libray will be open two days a week this year to service the 460 children enrolled. Fifth and sixth grades will use the library on Wednesdays and first, second, third and fourth on Thursdays.

Attendance was announced by Mrs. Rex Nevill and Mrs. Reed Dawson, with Miss Bechdel's third grade winning the attendance banner.

The executive board will meet Oct. 3 at the home of Mrs. Robert Loncar. Mrs. George Mastrovich will serve as co - chairman.

The approved constitution for congregations was adopted during a congregational meeting Sunday following the worship service at the Ohio View Evangelical Lutheran Church in Industry.

Rev. Arnal will participate in the third Inter - Lutheran theological discussion, a feature of the 450th Reformation anniversary observance next Monday at 10 a. m. at the First Lutheran Church in Pittsburgh. The subject will be "By Faith Alone." Rev. Arnal will discuss recent theological writings.

Edward Madura, a former Thiel College classmate of the pastor, figured in a discussion on religion Sunday at the Adult Fellowship class held in the church study.

Donald Devich of Ohioville, a minister of the Jehovah's Witnesses, will present the beliefs of that denomination next Sunday at 9:30 a. m. The class is studying "Christianity and Other World Religions" and members of the congregation and other interested persons are invited to attend.

A good used washing machine is needed by a family in the area, Rev. Arnal said, and asks that anyone with such a washer contact him.

Study classes on "Twentieth Century Theology and Its Development" began last night from 7 to 8 in Fellowship Hall. The classes, to be held every Wednesday, are being taught by Rev. Arnal, who invites interested persons in the area to attend.

Visitations of the sick and hospitalized this week are being conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Steiner of the Social Ministry Committee.

Major Problem In West Virginia

Most Of Nursing Homes Lacking Trained People

By JAMES M RAGSDALE
Associated Press Writer

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — The nursing home, last residence for many elderly persons, is too often a death-trap run by persons without proper knowledge and looking only for a profit.

State officials interviewed by The Associted Press said there are other big problems: lack of trained people in the business; shortage of capital to invest in better facilities; the assumption by operators and the public that a "clean" place is a "safe" place.

To avoid coming under the law, the bulk of the nursing homes—for the books anyway—limit the number of patients to no more than four. Some have more, but just don't tell anybody. In Mercer County not one of the 47 known nursing homes is licensed.

State Fire Marshal Lewis Myles says investigators are thwarted by operators who, hearing an investigator is on the way, hustle all patients, exceeding four into cars or hide them until the investigator goes away.

Myles also says his investigations show nursing home opertors — "simply because they don't know better" — unwittingly build fire hazards.

Several nursing homes in the Princeton - Bluefield area recently installed wood paneling to improve the home's looks. "They don't know it but that turns the place into a firetrap," Myles said.

The Chandler Nursing Home had wood paneling and fire flashed around the varnished walls in minutes. In this same home, Myles said, the only safety precautions were a fire alarm and one partially hidden fire extinguisher. The four people burned to death and the extinguisher was never used, he said.

"The alarm bells were set to sound off at 160 degrees. All that did was make a noise and, even so, people cook at 160 degrees," Myles said.

Alma Hercey, who refused to permit inspection of her facilities, runs a Princeton grocery store sandwiched between two small wings used as rooms for elderly patients. She said her patients were "like my family. The Welfare Department people know where my patients are and how they're being treated."

Adah Frazier, operator of the the Christian Nursing Home in Fayetteville, complained the state lately has "treated me like a dog." Her home, with 34 patients, had been licensed until recently, when the state ordered her to cut the number to 32.

Still others operate and have never been licensed. The Green Acres Rest Home, also in Fayetteville, has been open one year, now has 23 patients and has never been licensed. Green Acres has wood - paneled walls, no fire sprinkling system or many other safety devices. But one employe noted: "We're full up and there are lots of people waiting to get in."

State Health Director N. H. Dyer, struggling with the problem for several years, says most small homes and many of the larger ones cannot meet minimum health and safety standards.

Dyer is looking to the legislature to tighten the nursing home law and extend its coverage to all nursing care homes, regardless of size.

"I doubt we'll get very far by trying to prosecute and close these places," Dyer notes. "What we have to do is convince people that a good home with qualified services will be better and more profitable."

The nursing home improvement effort "is going to be a long, hard, uphill struggle," Dyer said.

And he added: "I hope we can accomplish all we need to do in time. Fortunately, we've had no major fire at any of the larger licensed homes. But that's more luck than anything else."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Tips For A Short Boy

A 15-year-old boy who is on the short side asks for help:

"My problem is my weight and my height. I weigh 120 pounds and I am only 5 feet tall. This doesn't sound too bad except that I gain normally in weight and stay the same height. I look fat. Should I try watching my diet so as to lose weight? Or should I let nature take her course? I would appreciate advice."

Ida Jean Kain

By comparing your height and weight to the average boy of 15 on a physical growth chart, it is obvious that on the height score you are in the short zone. However, your weight is in the average zone.

You are not overweight, so it would be a serious mistake to diet to reduce. The body's energy needs come first. When your daily fare fails to furnish enough food energy and essential nutrients for your needs, growth suffers first.

DURING THE fast - growing years, 14 to 16, a boy needs a surprising amount of food for energy, 3,000 to 3,400 calories a day. From 15 to 18, a young man will require around 26 calories per pound of normal weight per day. His need for essential nutrients and calories are higher during these years than they will be at any future time.

Now back to our model who looks fat. Tone up and trim down with exercise. You can look fat and be flabby without weighing too much by the scales. With daily exercise you can look and be lean, lithe and muscular. Swim, play tennis, bicycle, hike, jog, work out on a gym bar. To toughen up, devise ways to exercise the big muscles of the body. You won't weigh less, but you will be leaner.

Use a daily food guide as a framework for your food choices. Pay attention to milk, fruits and vegetables — foods likely to be in short supply. Have 4 or more glasses of milk a day. So as not to boost calories, choose skim milk or buttermilk, or 2 per cent milk. Or have part skim milk and part whole milk.

DAILY PATTERN: Milk: 4 or more 8 oz. glasses; meat, fish, chicken: 2 servings, 3-oz. each, cooked weight, not counting bone. Eggs: 1 daily or 5 per week. Vegetables: 3 servings, one a dark green or deep yellow for Vitamin A. Fruits: 3 servings, one orange or grapefruit, or the juice, for Vitamin C. Bread - cereal group: Cereal, cooked or dry, ¾ cup. Bread, good-quality: 4 or more slices. Such foods as cottage cheese, cheese, peanut butter and dried beans and peas can be used as alternates to furnish protein. Round out this pattern with other foods to meet, but not to exceed, your calorie needs.

Get with good nutrition and healthful exercise. Although your height is set by your heredity, proper nutrition during your growth-spurt years gives you a chance to grow and develop according to nature's best plan for you.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Tips For A Short Boy

A 15-year-old boy who is on the short side asks for help: "My problem is my weight and my height. I weigh 120 pounds and I am only 5 feet tall. This doesn't sound too bad except that I gain normally in weight and stay the same height. I look fat. Should I try watching my diet so as to lose weight? Or should I let nature take her course? I would appreciate advice."

Ida Jean Kain

By comparing your height and weight to the average boy of 15 on a physical growth chart, it is obvious that on the height score you are in the short zone. However, your weight is in the average zone.

You are not overweight, so it would be a serious mistake to diet to reduce. The body's energy needs come first. When your daily fare fails to furnish enough food energy and essential nutrients for your needs, growth suffers first.

DURING THE fast - growing years, 14 to 16, a boy needs a surprising amount of food for energy, 3,000 to 3,400 calories a day. From 15 to 18, a young man will require around 26 calories per pound of normal weight per day. His need for essential nutrients and calories are higher during these years than they will be at any future time.

Now back to our model who looks fat. Tone up and trim down with exercise. You can look fat and be flabby without weighing too much by the scales. With daily exercise you can look and be lean, lithe and muscular. Swim, play tennis, bicycle, hike, jog, work out on a gym bar. To toughen up, devise ways to exercise the big muscles of the body. You won't weigh less, but you will be leaner.

Use a daily food guide as a framework for your food choices. Pay attention to milk, fruits and vegetables — foods likely to be in short supply. Have 4 or more glasses of milk a day. So as not to boost calories, choose skim milk or buttermilk, or 2 per cent milk. Or have part skim milk and part whole milk.

DAILY PATTERN: Milk: 4 or more 8 oz. glasses; meat, fish, chicken: 2 servings, 3-oz. each, cooked weight, not counting bone. Eggs: 1 daily or 5 per week. Vegetables: 3 servings, one a dark green or deep yellow for Vitamin A. Fruits: 3 servings, one orange or grapefruit, or the juice, for Vitamin C. Bread - cereal group: Cereal, cooked or dry, ¾ cup. Bread, good-quality: 4 or more slices. Such foods as cottage cheese, cheese, peanut butter and dried beans and peas can be used as alternates to furnish protein. Round out this pattern with other foods to meet, but not to exceed, your calorie needs.

Get with good nutrition and healthful exercise. Although your height is set by your heredity, proper nutrition during your growth-spurt years gives you a chance to grow and develop according to nature's best plan for you.

She Didn't Ask

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The first white woman to enter Kentucky did so against her wishes. She was Mary Ingles of Virginia, captured by the Indians in 1755 and taken to Kentucky Territory.

DEAR HELOISE: This is for anyone who likes boxed macaroni and cheese, noodles and all the new fabulous boxed products on the market today . . . but wants a little variation.

I use the recipe on the box, but dump only two-thirds of the macaroni, etc., into the boiling water. Then I chop up an onion and put it in the water while the macaroni is boiling. By the time the macaroni is done so are the onions.

Scallions are also wonderful to use for flavoring. Cut them in quarter-inch pieces and add the green tops if you happen to like them. They give it a bit of color.

Drain all at the same time, Then, when you dump in your mix, your casserole has much more taste.

Now, here's what you're going to ask: Do I throw away the rest of the box? No!

I keep a fruit jar in my kitchen cabinet and each bit of different leftover dried product is poured into it. Then when I make soup, or want an extra-special homemade casserole, I use all the different kinds of noodles, spaghetti, and macaroni.

"ONION LOVER."

DEAR HELOISE: If you have to walk across the lawn to get to the garage, put an old throw rug on the floor in front of each car door to wipe sandy or wet shoes on. Sure helps a great deal in keeping the car mat clean.

RUTH SPEAR.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently a wall pencil sharpener was given to my son. I didn't know where to put it as I didn't want to mar the walls. So this is what I did:

I found a piece of thick lumber and sawed it about the size of a cigar box, then screwed the pencil sharpener to it. To make it look a little more attractive, I smoothed the edges with sandpaper and stained it dark.

Now it can be used anywhere in the house, which makes it real handy.

ELIZABETH MATTHEWS.

Another good place to put a wall pencil sharpener is just inside a closet door.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: After using all the spiced or pickled peaches from a jar or can, I refill the jar at least twice with regular canned peach halves and let stand in the juice two or three days before using.

Just as good as the original and saves the difference in price between the regular canned and the spiced variety.

MRS. J. C. STRIPLING.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise: Enjoy your column so much. You have almost made a good housekeeper out of me.

MRS. C. A. HARTWICK.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep my daughter from losing her school bus pass, I bought a small inexpensive chain and a see-through plastic folder. Then I put the pass in the folder, and punched a hole in it so the chain would go through. I fastened the chain to the inside of her purse.

My daughter loved the idea as it was so easy to find when she got on the bus. Hooray, no more lost passes!

MRS. M. CROCKETT.

DEAR HELOISE: I have had two daughters away at college; now one lives in another state and I write her long letters, usually with questions that I hope will be answered.

So, I write the question marks with a red pencil. Then it's simple for her to glance through my letter and spot my questions quickly. Since I've been doing this, I most always get all the answers.

Con Man Collects $50 At Store For Its Own Property

Police received a report Wednesday afternoon on a confidence man who persuaded a clerk to give him a $50 "refund" for the store's own merchandise.

The stranger obtained the cash in the drapery department at the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store Tuesday after introducing himself as the representative of a large area motel and adding that he was interested in buying new drapes and slip covers.

He selected a drapery pattern and asked the clerk if it came in a 90-inch length. She walked to get the information from another employe. When she returned, the "customer" presented her with two boxes containing couch covers, said they were wrong color and asked for a refund.

The clerk asked for a sales slip, but the con man said he had "forgotten it." The woman turned over $50 and the man walked out.

Later, the store personnel found the con man had gone to a stockroom behind the counter in the clerk's absence, picked up the slip covers and turned them in for a refund. He was described as a well-dressed man in his late 50's.

Sunken Treasure Believed Found

LONDON (AP) — Divers have found a sunken blanket of gold and silver coins believed to be part of a $2.8-million treasure that disappeared into the Atlantic's grayness with three ships of Admiral Sir Clowdisley Shovell's Mediterranean fleet in 1707.

Fortune-hunters had been searching for it ever since.

A private expedition, supported by a Royal Navy unit, hauled up 1,500 gold and silver guineas, crowns and pieces of eight Wednesday from about 100 feet of water off the Scilly Islands, some 25 miles from England's extreme southwestern tip.

"This is only a fraction of what is down there," a diver said.

The first coins discovered were English, French and Portuguese, none carrying a date later than 1707.

West Gives Talk At PTA Meeting

New regulations pertaining to truancy in the schools were explained by Harold West during a meeting of the Glenmoor Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night in the school. West is attendance officer for East Liverpool city schools.

Committee chairmen named are Mrs. Helen Christen, membership; Mrs. Beverly Jackson, program, and Mrs. Jeanette Reynolds, home room mothers.

Miss Elizabeth Coleman, principa, introduced teachers. Various reports were heard. The attendance banner was received by Miss Dorothy Palmer's fourth grade.

The Rev. James Hobson of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church offered prayer. Mrs. Evie Bloor, president, led the flag salute.

Lunch was served the executive committee.

The next meeting will be Oct. 17 at 7:30 p. m.

Women Protest At White House Against Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — For a few minutes beside the White House, the conflicting psychology of protesting humans and law-enforcing police seemed near the sort of flashpoint that can precipitate a hot-weather riot.

Some 100 partisans of the Women's Strike for Peace, angry because new regulations limit picketing in front of the White House, threw their weight Wednesday against a thin, blue line of U.S. Park Police.

The officers were stretched across the White House sidewalk, arm linked in arm, to make sure the allowed maximum of 100 pickets already on the scene would not be joined by their colleagues in front of the executive mansion.

The women shoved and pushed, blood showed on the shirtsleeve of one police officer and feelings apparently ran high on both sides of the skirmish line in the 86 - degree weather.

The irate women—once thwarted by a reinforced human wall of police—sat in the middle of East Executive Avenue, a public thoroughfare bordering the White House.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend and I are both 17. We got into a jam last May because he kissed me goodbye on the school premises. (It was 3 o'clock in the afternoon.) The lecture went something like this: "There is time and place for everything."

A few weeks later we parked along a well-lit road about 10 p.m. to talk about our future. A squad car came along and the police asked us what we were doing. We said we were talking about our future. The policeman ordered us to "get moving."

Last night we went to a public park and spread a blanket out under a tree so we could talk about life. About 20 little kids who were on a camping trip began to pester us. They circled around yelling, "Lovers, lovers, kiss, kiss, kiss!" After 15 minutes we left.

If there's a time and place for everything, please tell us where is the place for teenagers to have a nice, quiet conversation. — INVADED PRIVACY.

Dear In: Do you have a home? A living room, a parlor, or a front porch are all good places to talk about life. And if you are sitting on a park bench, your chances for privacy are better than if you are lying down. There are also coffee houses, sandwich shops and snack driveins. The list is endless. Be my guest.

Hot Dogs

Dear Ann: Most of the are trapped in overheated cars, please call the Humane Society steaming hot weather is over but there are still a few scorchers ahead. So please print this letter.

Too many people think they are being kind to their dogs when they take them on shopping trips to town. Most stores do not allow dogs, so the poor animals are locked up in unbearably hot automobiles for two and three hours at a time.

The average car can build up heat to 140 degrees in a half hour. A dog cools off by radiation, without any evaporation. In a hot car there is no place for the dog's heat to go. He could die.

People do not realize they are being cruel to their pets when they keep them cooped up this way. If any of your readers come across pets who at once. — ONE WHO LOVES DOGS.

Dear One: I have seen pets crying and jumping about frantically in parked cars but it never occurred to me that they might be suffocating from the heat. I thought they were merely unhappy at being left alone. Thank you for making me wiser.

True Friends

Dear Ann: My husband and I like our future daughter-in-law very much. We always have treated her like one of the family. Donna has had dinner over here dozens of times. We invited her to our vacation cottage last summer and again this spring.

Yesterday a friend said to me, "I hear your son is marrying Donna. I do hope everything works out all right." I asked her what she meant. She answered, "Donna told my daughter she is very much in love, but she can't warm up to her future mother-in-law."

I'm so shocked and hurt I don't know what to do. I had planned a prenuptial party for Donna but now I don't have the heart to go through with it. In fact, I don't even feel like going to the wedding. Please advise me. — CRUSHED.

Dear C.: I don't know what kind of friends you have, but if this woman is an example, I suggest that you start trading up.

A person who would make such a cutting remark is vicious. She also could be a liar — or guilty of gross exaggeration. One thing is certain, she is no friend. Write off the comment and carry on as if you never heard it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend and I are both 17. We got into a jam last May because he kissed me goodbye on the school premises. (It was 3 o'clock in the afternoon.) The lecture went something like this: "There is time and place for everything."

A few weeks later we parked along a well-lit road about 10 p.m. to talk about our future. A squad car came along and the police asked us what we were doing. We said we were talking about our future. The policeman ordered us to "get moving."

Last night we went to a public park and spread a blanket out under a tree so we could talk about life. About 20 little kids who were on a camping trip began to pester us. They circled around yelling, "Lovers, lovers, kiss, kiss, kiss!" After 15 minutes we left.

If there's a time and place for everything, please tell us where is the place for teenagers to have a nice, quiet conversation. — INVADED PRIVACY.

No Immediate Need Seen For Pope Surgery

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI's three doctors said today their examinations showed no immediate need for an operation to correct the prostate condition which led to his illness.

Informed sources had said, however, that although the operation was not urgent, it would be necessary eventually.

The 69-year-old Pope fell ill Sept. 4 but has recovered enough that the sources said he may even be able to preside at the opening of the worldwide bishops' synod meeting Sept. 29.

The doctors said the Pontiff's recovery was continuing relatively rapidly, and that the treatment he has been receiving seemed sufficient to bring about his almost complete recovery from the inflammation of the urinary system which he has suffered.

The seahorse combines an extraordinary variety of characteristics: head like a horse, monkey tail, pouch like a kangaroo, external skeleton like an insect and two eyes that can look in different directions at the same time. Seahorses can also change color like a chameleon.

Club To Sponsor Dance On Friday

Final plans for a teenage "go-go" Friday night were made when the Glenmoor Rams Little League Football Boosters Club met Wednesday night in the Elks ballroom.

Robert Blankenship, president, said "The Phyzzers" and "The Jokers" will play for the dance in a "battle of bands." A third band, Anthony Barbutos', also may perform. The dance will last from 8 to 11 in the Elks ballroom. An admission will be charged for students, Blankenship said, with proceeeds used for new uniforms for the league. A dancer, "Bridget," also will perform.

Mrs. Donna Ketchum and Mrs. Bridget Watters are co-chairmen of the affair.

No Immediate Need Seen For Pope Surgery

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI's three doctors said today their examinations showed no immediate need for an operation to correct the prostate condition which led to his illness.

Informed sources had said, however, that although the operation was not urgent, it would be necessary eventually.

The 69-year-old Pope fell ill Sept. 4 but has recovered enough that the sources said he may even be able to preside at the opening of the worldwide bishops' synod meeting Sept. 29.

The doctors said the Pontiff's recovery was continuing relatively rapidly, and that the treatment he has been receiving seemed sufficient to bring about his almost complete recovery from the inflammation of the urinary system which he has suffered.

The seahorse combines an extraordinary variety of characteristics: head like a horse, monkey tail, pouch like a kangaroo, external skeleton like an insect and two eyes that can look in different directions at the same time. Seahorses can also change color like a chameleon.

Scout News

"Western Roundup" was selected as the September theme.

Donald Wood, Scoutmaster of Troop 22, emphasized the importance of recruiting new boys to get more parents interested. The Cub Pack is also holding a recruiting drive. Information may be obtained from Arlene Mathess, Mrs. Barbara Buchanan, Mrs. Bonnie Beresford or Mrs. Birchie Miller, den mothers.

Those interested in volunteering as den mothers or working on the committee are to contact Rev. Schondelmayer, cubmaster. Raymond Ihle, chairman, presided. Others present were Rev. Schondelmayer, Wood, Mrs. Mathess and Mrs. Buchanan.

Interested persons are urged to attend the pack meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Christian Church. Den 6 will hold the opening and closing exercises and Den 2 will conduct a candy sale.

Police Arrest Youth After Tavern Fracas

A 19-year-old East Liverpool resident was booked into City Jail on an intoxication charge filed under state law by two officers who arrested him as an aftermath of a reported fight Thursday night in the Green Mill tavern on Dresden Ave.

James A. Way of 411½ Grove Alley was cited by Patrolmen David K. Mumaw and James Woods after he was treated at City Hospital for small lacerations of the left side of the head.

The officers were dispatched to the tavern about 7:20 on a report a fight was in progress, but on their arrival the battle had terminated. Witnesses told them one of the participants, hurt in the fight, had dashed into a nearby alley. They later learned that the injured man was in an auto. Obtaining a description of the car, they halted it, found Way bleeding profusely about the face, took him to the hospital for treatment and then lodged him in jail.

Car Jumps Over Curb And Hits Traffic Sign

No one was injured Wednesday afternoon when a slow-moving auto hurdled a curb on St. Clair Ave. near Park Blvd. and knocked down a city traffic sign, police said.

The 1965 two - door sedan driven by Norma Jean Beatty, 27, of Park Way showed no visible damage after striking the "no parking" sign, officers reported.

The woman told police she had halted for a stop sign on Park Blvd. at the junction with St. Clair. As she started to turn right onto St. Clair, her small child got its foot caught in the steering wheel and her efforts to extricate the youngster caused the car to hurdle the curb, she said. The mishap was timed at 2:03 p.m.

The Cleveland Indians set an American League record in 1954 by winning 111 games and playing at a .721 percentage.

Montreal's Transit Employes Walk Out

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's bus and subway workers struck for higher pay today, virtually paralyzing the city transportation system that serves about 1.3 million riders a day.

The strike against the Montreal Transportation Commission by its 6,000 employes shut down 2,000 buses on 400 miles of routes and 41 trains of the city's new subway line, inaugurated this year.

Expo pressed sightseeing tractor trains to ferry crowds to entrances and parking lots. Officials said Expo would go on today despite the walkout.

Wages were the main issue. The commission reportedly offered to increase average drivers' pay from $2.77 an hour to $2.99, but union representatives held out for a $3.50 package.

All AL Contenders Win; Red Sox, Twins Still Tied

9th Inning Rally Red Sox Winner

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline, who struck early and often, got an early good night. Carl Yastrzemski, who saved his best shots for the late innings, had to stay around to the bitter end.

Kaline hit his 25th homer in the first inning of Detroit's 10-1 rout of the New York Yankees Wednesday night. After he doubled in the Tigers' run-scoring third and fifth innings, Al was sent home to put his feet up.

But the Red Sox, who have made comeback victories a way of life lately needed Yastrzemski every inch of the way against Cleveland.

He hit his 41st homer in the sixth inning then got his fourth hit in the ninth, a single, and rode home on Reggie Smith's single with the run that won the game 5-4.

The Red Sox stayed tied for the American League lead with Minnesota, which beat Kansas City 6-2 earlier in the day, while the Tigers remained in fourth place, one game out and a half-game behind third-place Chicago, which beat California 6-4.

Baltimore took a doubleheader from Washington 4-3 and 6-3 in 10 innings.

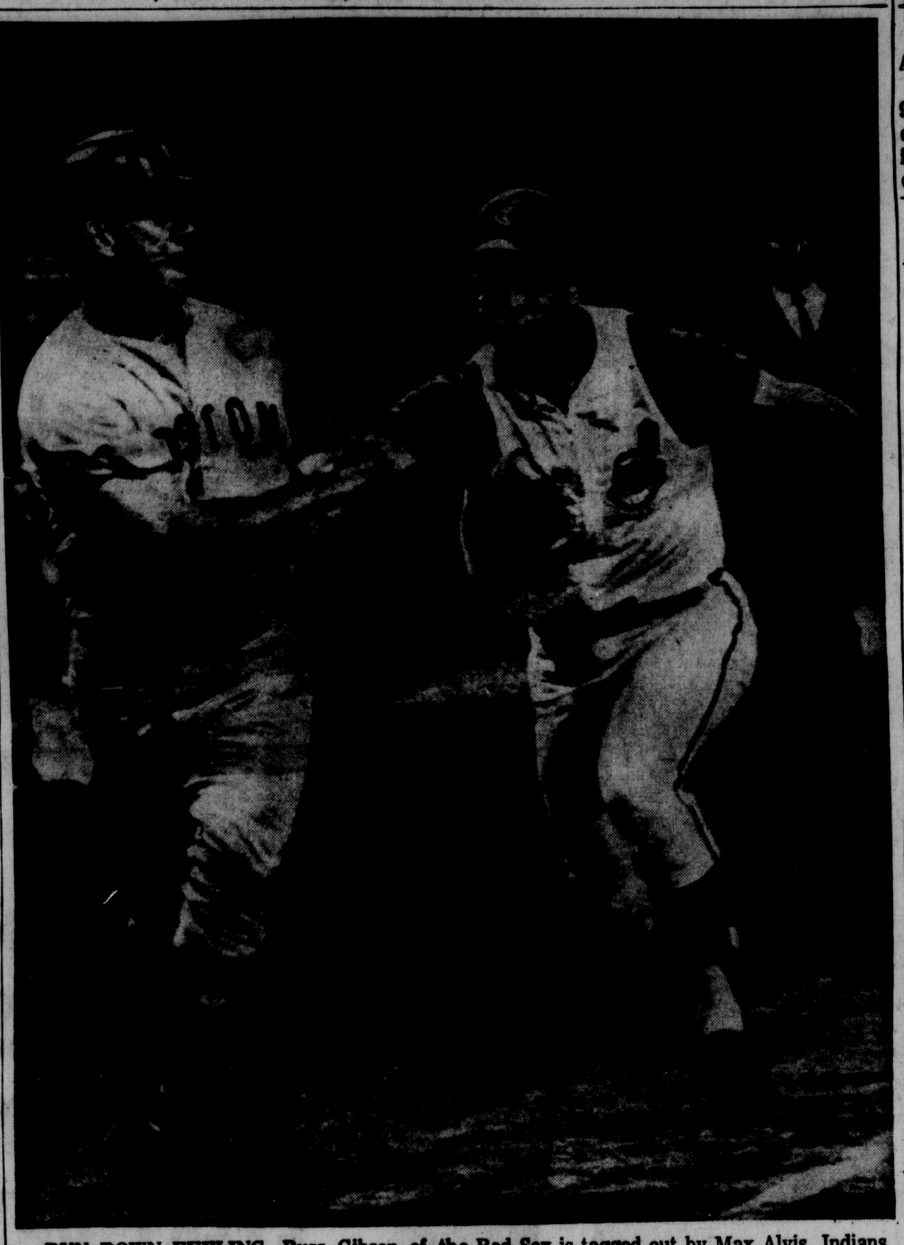
"These one-run games are more of a strain on you," said Yastrzemski. "It'd be less of a strain if we'd win 9-1 and lose by the same score."

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said Kaline's first-inning shot unglued Yankee starter Al Downing, who usually gives the Tigers a tough time. Don Wert, who seems completely recovered from his hamstring pull, added a homer in the eighth.

Joe Sparma, who gave up only seven hits, lost his shutout when Charlie Smith homered in the ninth. Sparma's record now is 15-9.

The Twins got all the hitting they needed from Tony Oliva and Bob Allison, who each hit two-run homers, but Harmon Killebrew drove in a couple of runs with singles just to make sure. Dean Chance won his 19th game, giving up just four hits and striking out 13.

The White Sox got a homer and three runs batted in from Tommie Agee and clutch relief pitching from Bob Locker, who pitched three innings of hitless ball before giving up a final run in the ninth. Rick Reichardt homered for the Angels.



RUN DOWN FEELING. Russ Gibson of the Red Sox is tagged out by Max Alvis, Indians third baseman, during a rundown between third and home last night in Cleveland. Boston rallied to win 5-4, maintain tie for American League lead. (UPI Telephoto)

Nebraska's Meylan Lineman Of The Week

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Wayne Meylan, Nebraska's All-America middle guard of last year and this week's Lineman of the Week in college football, doesn't mind the pressure of the big game, but when it comes to a coaching career — nothing doing.

Mayland, a 6-foot, 239-pound senior from Bay City, Mich., made life miserable for Washington backs as Nebraska beat the Huskies at Seattle last week 17-7 as he stopped third-down plays for losses and had a total of 13 unassisted tackles.

Meylan says he has plotted his future this way:

"No coaching. There's too much pressure. I want to play five years of pro football, then become a jet fighter pilot."

Bid Pressed For Keeping Akron In CFL

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Last - ditch efforts to put together a group of local backers to take over the Akron Vulcans' Continental Football League franchise continued today, and business manager Jack Zebkar said the team will play as scheduled against the Charleston Rockets in the Rubber Bowl Sunday evening.

Zebkar said an interested group would go over the Vulcans' books today.

Meanwhile, team captain Bob Meeker said the players would participate tonight in hopes a new owner is found.

Team members had threatened to quit playing unless someone was found to take over the franchise.

League Commissioner Sol Rosen, who took control from Frank Hurn of Chicago, said unless the team is bought it "will be folded."

Rosen declared that "not another nickle of league funds" will go toward support of the Vulcans.

Car Wrecker Conners Top Raider Defender

NEW YORK (AP) — Dan Conners would rather wreck offenses in Oakland, Calif., than cars in St. Mary's, Pa.

He does a good job on both.

For his latest offense-wrecking job, he has been named the American Football League's Defensive Player of the Week by The Associated Press.

Conners, middle linebacker of the Oakland Raiders, recovered two fumbles and generally led the defense that glittered for the second straight week in a 35-7 victory over Boston last Sunday.

The performance of the Raiders' defense in two games this season—it's allowed just seven points—has been a lot more gratifying to Conners, who also calls defensive signals, than his car problems last winter in St. Mary's.

"I was born and grew up in St. Mary's, but I hadn't lived there for seven years," Connors related. "I had been in Miami for four years while I was going to school and then spent three years in Oakland.

"We (wife Marilyn and 2 year-old son Dan Jr.) didn't know what we were going to do last winter until I received a job offer from a carbon company in St. Mary's. If we had known what we were getting into, we never would have gone back."

Conners laughed when he said that, but all he did in the northwestern Pennsylvania town of St. Mary's was shiver.

"After four years in Miami and three in Oakland, we weren't used to the winter," the 26-year-old Conners said. "It shocked the heck out of us. It was a record cold winter. It got as cold as 20 below zero, and we had snow up to Easter.

"The roads were always very slippery, and I wrecked two cars."

Angels Ask Bill Rigney To Return

ANAHEIM (AP) — There'll be some changes made on the California Angels' roster this winter, but Bill Rigney is to return as manager.

That much was indicated Wednesday when Rigney huddled with General Manager Fred Haney before Chicago spoiled the Angels' final home game of the season, 6-4.

"Rig has done a fine job," said Haney, "and as far as I know, he'll be back next year. I talked to him today about it and he said, 'fine and dandy.' But he hasn't signed a contract yet."

Haney said the fifth-place Angels hope to strengthen themselves in the trade marts this winter.

The win Wednesday night was an important one for the White Sox, who remain a half-game behind co-leaders Boston and Minnesota.

It would appear that Chicago has an edge over the three other title contenders, inasmuch as the White Sox will play their eight remaining games against second-division teams. They'll play Cleveland, Kansas City, and Washington.

McLain Dislocates 2 Toes, To Miss Turn

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers suffered a severe blow to their American League pennant chances Wednesday when they learned 17-game winner Denny McLain dislocated two toes in his left foot and would be lost for at least until Monday and possibly for the remaining nine games of the season.

McLain, knocked out in his last four starts, said he dozed off while watching television at his home Monday and injured his foot when he arose from a chair.

"The foot fell asleep on me and when I got up it just collapsed outwards," said McLain. "I don't know if anyone will believe it, but that's what happened."

Manager Mayo Smith, who indicated he had planned to use only three starters the remainder of the season anyway, said McLain would remain in Detroit to take treatments during the weekend series in Washington and report to the team in New York on Monday.

The injury reduced the Detroit starting rotation to Earl Wilson, Joe Sparma and Mickey Lolicy.

Hayes, Carr Have Done 9.2

Two Sprinters Matched In Giants-Dallas Clash

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Can a 9.1 sprinter beat a 9.2 defender on a pass pattern? Cotton Bowl fans may get the answer Sunday in the expected Bob Hayes-Henry Carr matchup in the Dallas-New York Giants football game.

The prospect of a foot race between Hayes, the "World's Fastest Human" in his days at Florida A&M and the Olympics, and Carr, the 1964 Olympic 200-meter champ, is an alluring sidelight to Sunday's game.

Browns Have Never Won In Tiger Stadium

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will be trying to break an old jinx when they invade Tiger Stadium at Detroit for a game with the Lions Sunday afternoon.

This will be their sixth appearance there in games that count. In previous appearances they lost three regular season games and two National Football League championship contests.

The Browns also will be bumping into several former Browns players, including quarterback Milt Plum, who has been with the Lions since 1962.

Plum, now 32, has won back the starting job at quarterback for the Lions from Karl Sweetan.

"Milt's earned the job and he's got it indefinitely," the Lions' new head coach, Joe Schmidt, said Wednesday night.

Mike Lucci, who never was able to make it as a regular linebacker for the Browns, has the job for Detroit. He received the assignment when Schmidt retired to the job of assistant coach last season.

The Lions' defensive unit includes Dick LeBeau, who was signed as a free agent after the Browns cut him from their roster following the 1959 training season.

Ex-Browns with the Detroit offense in addition to Plum include Roger Shoals, the regular left tackle, and Jim Gibbons, who alternates with Ron Kramer at the slot end.

Frank Ryan, quarterback for the Browns who is nursing two sprained ankles, worked out Wednesday and reported he will be ready for the Detroit game.

1,000 Fans Greet Cards At Airport

ST. LOUIS (AP) — About 1,000 fans jammed Lambert Municipal Airport early today to greet the homecoming St. Louis Cardinals despite a driving rainstorm and a three-day wait since the Cardinals clinched the National League pennant.

The crowd overflowed the west concourse of the terminal chanting, "We want Cha Cha," until slugging first baseman Orlando Cepeda appeared. A group of six policemen had to convoy Cepeda through the crowd while fans grabbed at him, hugged him and slapped him on the back.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst was the first man off the plane and he held an impromptu news conference with reporters in the rain.

The "Red Head" shrugged off all questions about the American League race. He said he didn't care who won as long as somebody wins without a playoff.

Cepeda was unconcerned about a playoff. As he pushed his way through the crowd he said, "I don't think any team can beat us. The rest wouldn't hurt us."

Of the 26 first-round draft choices the top performers in last Sunday's pro games were Mel Farr of the Detroit Lions and Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins.

Farr, signed out of UCLA by the Lions, ran for 95 yards against the tough Green Bay defense. Griese, called upon unexpectedly when John Stofa was injured, led Miami to victory over Denver with 12 of 19 pass completions for 193 yards and two touchdowns, a fine debut for the Purdue flash.

Bubba Smith, the giant defensive lineman from Michigan State, missed Baltimore's opener because of an injury. Bubba was the No. 1 pick in the draft on the rights the Colts got from New Orleans for Gary Cuzzo.

Steve Spurrier, the Heisman Trophy winner, was used as a punter by the San Francisco 49ers who started John Brodie and relieved with George Mira against Minnesota.

All AL Contenders Win; Red Sox, Twins Still Tied

9th Inning Rally Red Sox Winner

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline, who struck early and often, got an early good night. Carl Yastrzemski, who saved his best shots for the late innings, had to stay around to the bitter end.

Kaline hit his 25th homer in the first inning of Detroit's 10-1 rout of the New York Yankees Wednesday night. After he doubled in the Tigers' run-scoring third and fifth innings, Al was sent home to put his feet up.

But the Red Sox, who have made comeback victories a way of life lately needed Yastrzemski every inch of the way against Cleveland.

He hit his 41st homer in the sixth inning then got his fourth hit in the ninth, a single, and rode home on Reggie Smith's single with the run that won the game 5-4.

The Red Sox stayed tied for the American League lead with Minnesota, which beat Kansas City 6-2 earlier in the day, while the Tigers remained in fourth place, one game out and a half-game behind third-place Chicago, which beat California 6-4.

Baltimore took a doubleheader from Washington 4-3 and 6-3 in 10 innings.

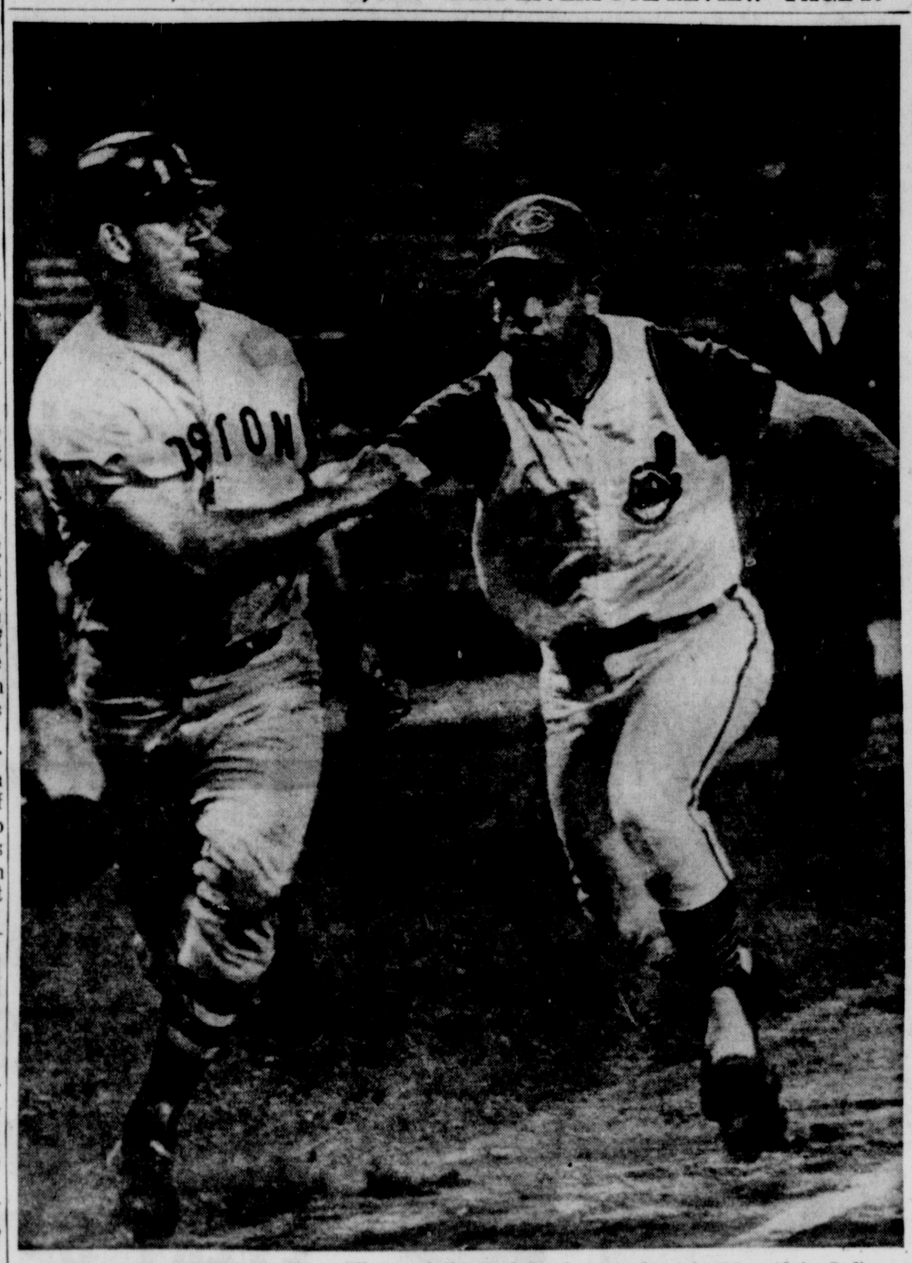
"These one-run games are more of a strain on you," said Yastrzemski. "It'd be less of a strain if we'd win 9-1 and lose by the same score."

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said Kaline's first-inning shot unglued Yankee starter Al Downing, who usually gives the Tigers a tough time. Don Wert, who seems completely recovered from his hamstring pull, added a homer in the eighth.

Joe Sparma, who gave up only seven hits, lost his shutout when Charlie Smith homered in the ninth. Sparma's record now is 15-9.

The Twins got all the hitting they needed from Tony Oliva and Bob Allison, who each hit two-run homers, but Harmon Killebrew drove in a couple of runs with singles just to make sure. Dean Chance won his 19th game, giving up just four hits and striking out 13.

The White Sox got a homer and three runs batted in from Tommie Agee and clutch relief pitching from Bob Locker, who pitched three innings of hitless ball before giving up a final run in the ninth. Rick Reichardt homered for the Angels.



RUN DOWN FEELING. Russ Gibson of the Red Sox is tagged out by Max Alvis, Indians third baseman, during a rundown between third and home last night in Cleveland. Boston rallied to win 5-4, maintain tie for American League lead. (UPI Telephoto)

Astros Rally To Edge Pirates

Carlton Fans 16, Loses

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Carlton, who has contributed 14 victories to St. Louis' pennant push this season, set a season's strikeout high Wednesday night, fanning 16 Philadelphia batters. But he came away a 3-1 loser, mainly because of Cookie Rojas.

Rojas drove in the Phillies' tie-breaking run with a fourth-inning single and then scored an insurance run after doubling in the seventh as Philadelphia survived Carlton's strikeout pitch for the victory.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco topped Chicago 5-1, Los Angeles edged New York 4-3, Cincinnati pounded Atlanta 9-4 and Houston nipped Pittsburgh 5-4.

Chris Short bested Carlton on a four-hitter and struck out nine. The two-team total of 25 strikeouts fell one short of the major league record set by Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in 1965. And except for an enthusiastic fan, the record might have been broken.

"I knew I was striking out a lot of batters," said Carlton, "but I didn't know how many. Then someone at the end of the seventh yelled from the stands that I had struck out 15. From that point I kind of lost my concentration. I began throwing bad pitches."

Jim Davenport had four hits including a home run for the Giants, who jolted Cubs' rookie Rich Nye early.

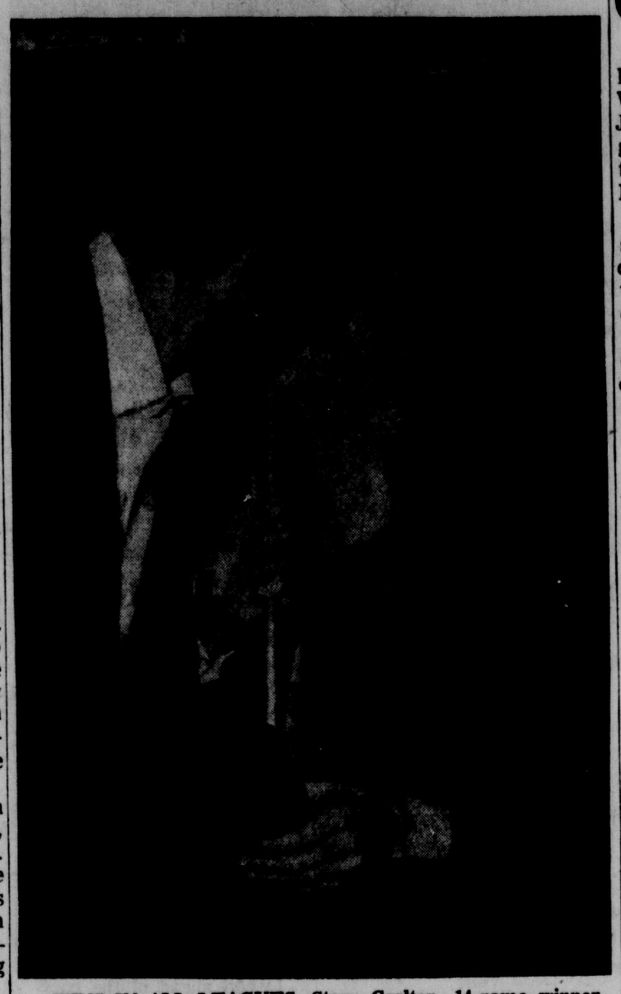
Vada Pinson and John Bench walloped three-run homers for the Reds, who whacked the Braves. Pinson connected in the first inning and Bench's first major league shot came in the sixth. Hank Aaron hit his 38th for the Braves.

Houston rallied for three ninth-inning runs—the last two on pinch hitter Ron Davis' two-out pinch single—and nipped the Pirates. Doubles by Jim Wynn and Doug Rader started the winning rally and Davis' bases-loaded single climaxed it.



WINS IN ALL LEAGUES. Steve Carlton, 14-game winner for the St. Louis Cardinals, receives a welcome home kiss from his wife, Beverly, as the Cards return to St. Louis from Philadelphia, where they clinched the National League pennant. Carlton last night fanned 16 Phillies, but lost. (UPI Telephoto)

San Jose Riot Threat Calls Game

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — President Robert D. Clark Wednesday night canceled San Jose State College's football game Saturday night here with the University of Texas, El Paso.

After a meeting with other school administrators, President Clark announced that "in view of disturbing threats from outside our college community to the peaceful conduct of Saturday night's game, I have after consultation with the director of athletics ordered cancellation of the game.

Review Yogis Agree On 6 Of 10 Games

The Review Grid Yogis will generally stand or fall together this week, as 6 of the 10 games produced unanimous picks.

The consensus will stand or fall with Jerry Nachman, who agreed with the majority in every instance. Turk Pierce and Bob Duffy submitted identical sheets, but found themselves to be a minority of two in tabbing the Browns over the Lions.

The unanimous choices were Follansbee over Oak Glen, Stanton Local over Southern Local, the Steelers over the Cardinals, Penn State over Navy, Michigan State over Houston and West Virginia over VMI.

Beaver was selected over Midland by a 4-1 margin, with Tom Futhey the holdout, and Southern Cal was a 4-1 choice over Texas, with Bob Shaffer voting in favor of the Lone Star aggregation.

Jan Samuels Suffers Hurt At Findlay

Samuels had won the starting quarterback position on the Findlay College varsity football team (freshmen are eligible), but he suffered a shoulder separation in the first half as a 17-0 loss to Eastern Michigan and will out of action for at least three weeks.

4-H News

A committee was selected to present a program on a controversial subject at the November meeting when the Elwood 4-H Club of Newell met Tuesday, with Miss Barbara Anderson of Chester assistant leader.

Donald Foltz and Debbie Hupp were enrolled as new members.

The next meeting will be Oct. 2 at 7:30 p. m., with Mrs. Emma Renfro of Newell leader. The controversial program will be presented Nov. 6 at the home of Mrs. Renfro.

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

HAVE YOU HEARD OF THESE DAFFYNITIONS: "Cadi-llac — a shortage of golf bag toters! Stude-baker — a drunk bread maker; Mercedes-Benz — actress McCambridge taking exercises!"

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT HAS AWARDED a contract to develop hardware for a highway automatic route guidance system. Such a system would include dial-a-trip equipment in the car and computer type machines at road junctions to automaticaly indicate your route of travel!

NOW UNDER TESTING IS A STOP LIGHT that flashes on and off when the brake pedal is pressed with extra heavy pressure.

TRADE YOUR CAR IN AFTER 2½ YEARS. You get a break on the depreciation, and you don't have any big engine repair bills. If your car is 2½ years old, see us at M & A MOTORS DODGE for an outstanding deal on a New 1968 Dodge, with the 5-year 50,000 mile warranty. You'll like the fantastic deals we're making.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST TO DRIVE YOUR CAR a mile? Eleven cents, according to a recent survey. The biggest chunk, 2.8 cents goes for depreciation; 2-1 cents for maintenance, accessories, parts and tires and only 1.7 cents for gas and oil. Other costs: parking 1.8 cents, insurance 1.4 cents and taxes 1.2 cents.

Back Ache Bothering Rudolph

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Armed with a new putter and an aching back, Mason Rudolph sets out today in defense of his Thunderbird Classic Golf Championship, his only tour triumph in the last three years.

The 33-year-old Tennessean headed for a doctor and a hot tub, immediately after completing Wednesday's pro-amateur event. He was several strokes above par and said he picked up his ball on a couple of holes.

He won $4,937.50 in the Westchester Classic with his old "blue goose" mallet putter then switched to the Palmer model and won a pro-am event in Dalton, Ga., shooting a 32 over the final nine holes. Then came Philadelphia, which brought his 1967 winnings to $33,395.74.

First prize in the $150,000 Thunderbird is $30,000.

San Diego St. Faces Tough Weber State

By The Associated Press

The Aztecs, No. 1 in the first Associated Press poll of the 1967 season, opened their campaign last Friday night by defeating Tennessee State 16-8. San Diego State was the top team and Tennessee State the runnerup in last year's final poll.

This Saturday, San Diego State, winner of 17 games in succession, takes on another formidable opponent in sixth-ranked Weber State. Weber gave the Aztecs their toughest battle last season before losing, 38-34. The Wildcats opened their '67 schedule last Saturday by edging Northern Arizona, 29-28.

In the initial AP poll this year, San Diego garnered eight first-place votes and 113 points. North Dakota State was second with 75 points followed by Waynesburg, 73 points. Twelve sports writers and broadcasters on a national panel participated in the balloting.

Arkansas State is fifth. Then come Weber, Northwestern Louisiana, West Chester, the University of Texas at Arlington and Florida A&M in that order.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassady was the last football player to be named athlete of the year. He was honored in 1955.

Romulus Hanover Jug Choice

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The weatherman gave a promising morning line for today's 22nd annual running of the Little Brown Jug.

Cloudy skies, temperatures in the 70s and only a slight chance of light showers were forecast, but the memory of torrential rains which drenched the track during the last two runnings of the pacing classic for 3-year-olds still lingered in the memory of harness racing fans.

Ironmen Will Start Games Hour Earlier

WHEELING (AP) — A new 7 p.m. starting time for Wheeling Ironmen home Continental Football League games will be in effect the rest of the season.

The change from 8 p.m. starting times will be made following Sunday's game between the Ironmen and Montreal. Mike Valan, Ironmen president, said the change was requested by parents wishing to bring their children to the games.

Charles Sifford, winner of the 1967 Hartford Open, played five years on the PGA golf tour without a membership card.

Astros Rally To Edge Pirates

Carlton Fans 16, Loses

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Carlton, who has contributed 14 victories to St. Louis' pennant push this season, set a season's strikeout high Wednesday night, fanning 16 Philadelphia batters. But he came away a 3-1 loser, mainly because of Cookie Rojas.

Rojas drove in the Phillies' tie-breaking run with a fourth-inning single and then scored an insurance run after doubling in the seventh as Philadelphia survived Carlton's strikeout pitch for the victory.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco topped Chicago 5-1, Los Angeles edged New York 4-3, Cincinnati pounded Atlanta 9-4 and Houston nipped Pittsburgh 5-4.

Chris Short bested Carlton on a four-hitter and struck out nine. The two-team total of 25 strikeouts fell one short of the major league record set by Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in 1965. And except for an enthusiastic fan, the record might have been broken.

"I knew I was striking out a lot of batters," said Carlton, "but I didn't know how many. Then someone at the end of the seventh yelled from the stands that I had struck out 15. From that point I kind of lost my concentration. I began throwing bad pitches."

Carlton, 14-9, struck out only one man in the final two innings after the fan shouted at him. Ed Spiezio homered for the Cardinals.

Gaylord Perry won his fifth straight game on a seven-hitter and evened his record at 15-15 an San Francisco won its 13th game in 17 September starts.

Jim Davenport had four hits including a home run for the Giants, who jolted Cubs' rookie Rich Nye early.

Al Ferrara tagged a two-run double that snapped a scoreless tie in the sixth inning and helped Don Drysdale pitch Los Angeles past the Mets.

Vada Pinson and John Bench walloped three-run homers for the Reds, who whacked the Braves. Pinson connected in the first inning and Bench's first major league shot came in the sixth. Hank Aaron hit his 38th for the Braves.

Houston rallied for three ninth-inning runs—the last two on pinch hitter Ron Davis' two-out pinch single—and nipped the Pirates. Doubles by Jim Wynn and Doug Rader started the winning rally and Davis' bases-loaded single climaxed it.

WINS IN ALL LEAGUES. Steve Carlton, 14-game winner for the St. Louis Cardinals, receives a welcome home kiss from his wife, Beverly, as the Cards return to St. Louis from Philadelphia, where they clinched the National League pennant. Carlton last night fanned 16 Phillies, but lost. (UPI Telephoto)

Back Ache Bothering Rudolph

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Armed with a new putter and an aching back, Mason Rudolph sets out today in defense of his Thunderbird Classic Golf Championship, his only tour triumph in the last three years.

The 33-year-old Tennessean headed for a doctor and a hot tub, immediately after completing Wednesday's pro-amateur event. He was several strokes above par and said he picked up his ball on a couple of holes.

Rudolph tied for third at Philadelphia and picked up $6,160.

He won $4,937.50 in the Westchester Classic with his old "blue goose" mallet putter then switched to the Palmer model and won a pro-am event in Dalton, Ga., shooting a 32 over the final nine holes. Then came Philadelphia, which brought his 1967 winnings to $33,395.74.

First prize in the $150,000 Thunderbird is $30,000.

San Diego St. Faces Tough Weber State

By The Associated Press

The Aztecs, No. 1 in the first Associated Press poll of the 1967 season, opened their campaign last Friday night by defeating Tennessee State 16-8. San Diego State was the top team and Tennessee State the runnerup in last year's final poll.

This Saturday, San Diego State, winner of 17 games in succession, takes on another formidable opponent in sixth-ranked Weber State. Weber gave the Aztecs their toughest battle last season before losing, 38-34. The Wildcats opened their '67 schedule last Saturday by edging Northern Arizona, 29-28.

In the initial AP poll this year, San Diego garnered eight first-place votes and 113 points. North Dakota State was second with 75 points followed by Waynesburg, 73 points. Twelve sports writers and broadcasters on a national panel participated in the balloting.

Tennessee State, which had its 10-game winning streak ended by San Diego State, was fourth with 70 points.

Arkansas State is fifth. Then come Weber, Northwestern Louisiana, West Chester, the University of Texas at Arlington and Florida A&M in that order.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassady was the last football player to be named athlete of the year. He was honored in 1955.

Romulus Hanover Jug Choice

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The weatherman gave a promising morning line for today's 22nd annual running of the Little Brown Jug.

Cloudy skies, temperatures in the 70s and only a slight chance of light showers were forecast, but the memory of torrential rains which drenched the track during the last two runnings of the pacing classic for 3-year-olds still lingered in the memory of harness racing fans.

Romulus Hanover, sporting a 14-2 record for the year including a victory in the Messenger Stakes, First Jewel in pacing's Triple Crown, was the 4-5 choice to win the $84,778 event.

Ironmen Will Start Games Hour Earlier

WHEELING (AP) — A new 7 p.m. starting time for Wheeling Ironmen home Continental Football League games will be in effect the rest of the season.

The change from 8 p.m. starting times will be made following Sunday's game between the Ironmen and Montreal. Mike Valan, Ironmen president, said the change was requested by parents wishing to bring their children to the games.

Charles Sifford, winner of the 1967 Hartford Open, played five years on the PGA golf tour without a membership card.

San Jose Riot Threat Calls Game

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — President Robert D. Clark Wednesday night canceled San Jose State College's football game Saturday night here with the University of Texas, El Paso.

After a meeting with other school administrators, President Clark announced that "in view of disturbing threats from outside our college community to the peaceful conduct of Saturday night's game, I have after consultation with the director of athletics ordered cancellation of the game.

"I consider the action necessary to protect our students, their parents and friends from the possibility of violence in Spartan Stadium."

Charges of racial discrimination in virtually all aspects of campus life have been made by Harry Edwards, a Negro faculty member and former Spartan basketball and track star.

Clark did not name any off-campus person or group who might be planning to invade the stadium Saturday night.

During Wednesday's public hearing on the discrimination charges, Athletic Director Robert Bronzan said his department had not discriminated against Negroes.

Football Coach Harry Anderson said the 11 Negro members of the Spartan squad had told him voluntarily they were "completely satisfied" with conditions.

Review Yogis Agree On 6 Of 10 Games

The Review Grid Yogis will generally stand or fall together this week, as 6 of the 10 games produced unanimous picks.

The consensus will stand or fall with Jerry Nachman, who agreed with the majority in every instance. Turk Pierce and Bob Duffy submitted identical sheets, but found themselves to be a minority of two in tabbing the Browns over the Lions.

The unanimous choices were Follansbee over Oak Glen, Stanton Local over Southern Local, the Steelers over the Cardinals, Penn State over Navy, Michigan State over Houston and West Virginia over VMI.

Beaver was selected over Midland by a 4-1 margin, with Tom Futhey the holdout, and Southern Cal was a 4-1 choice over Texas, with Bob Shaffer voting in favor of the Lone Star aggregation.

Beaver Local was the choice of Pierce, Duffy and Nachman, with the others taking Springfield (Jefferson County) Local.

Jan Samuels Suffers Hurt At Findlay

Samuels had won the starting quarterback position on the Findlay College varsity football team (freshmen are eligible), but he suffered a shoulder separation in the first half as a 17-0 loss to Eastern Michigan and will out of action for at least three weeks.

Two other Midland boys, tackle Aaron Golding and end Larry Walker, have made the Findlay varsity as freshmen.

4-H News

A committee was selected to present a program on a controversial subject at the November meeting when the Elwood 4-H Club of Newell met Tuesday, with Miss Barbara Anderson of Chester assistant leader.

Donald Foltz and Debbie Hupp were enrolled as new members.

The next meeting will be Oct. 2 at 7:30 p. m., with Mrs. Emma Renfro of Newell leader. The controversial program will be presented Nov. 6 at the home of Mrs. Renfro.

Baggs Describes Meeting With Ho

By WILLIAM C. BAGGS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Word came in the afternoon that Ho Chi Minh wished to see us.

His office is in the frayed elegance of the palace which once accommodated the governors when France ruled this neighborhood of Southeast Asia.

He Was Prompt

The old gentleman was certainly prompt. We were ushered into a rather small room, decorated only with a single painting—of a brownish eagle—and we had not seated ourselves when he came in, walking in a mixture of a stride and bounce.

After a few minutes of social conversation, Ho Chi Minh asked if we could talk "'among ourselves." It was this suggestion that the talks should be private which could not permit a reporting of the conversation until now. Recent disclosures of the vital parts of the talk have removed the prohibition.

Ashmore and I emphasized to our host that we could talk, but we pointed out that anything he said in the conversation would be reported to our government. We stressed that we did not represent the United States but were pledged to report the conversation in detail to Washington. He nodded.

Bombing Must Stop

There was no possibility of peace talks, he said, until the bombing of North Vietnam stopped. And, tapping his fingures together, he said no new Americans should be introduced into Vietnam during any peace talks.

Well then, we asked, could talks begin if the United States stopped the bombing?

He measured the question with much care, and said: "You are a businessman and I am a businessman, and I want to see the goods before the price is established."

During this portion of the conversation, Ho spoke in English and, through an interpreter, in French and Vietnamese.

Twice more we asked if talks could really begin if the bombing were concluded. And twice Ho said that talks could begin if the bombing stopped.

The Communist leader, involved in the nationalism of his country for almost half a century, said that we and all Americans should realize that his country had been at war for 25 years, against the Japanese and the French and the Americans, and they would never surrender thier independence after so long a struggle.

No Other Conditions

Moreover, he continued, coming back to the subject of peace talks, he had no conditions for such talks except an end to the bombing. The meeting could be private or public, he said, and no agenda was necessary.

He referred to the bombings all through the conversation. He admitted the bombings hurt North Vietnam but pointed out that the bombings did not unreasonably hamper the military ability of the country.

Dark had crawled over Hanoi when we left the palace. We had talked two hours, and the next evening Ho sent a minister to see us and make certain we had an accurate record of what he had said. The minister seemed anxious that Ho's views not be misinterpreted, in the slightest degree, in the report of the talk to our government.

Probe Urged Of Pentagon's NRA Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid a duel of words over gun control legislation, Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan proposed today a Senate investigation of Pentagon policy toward the National Rifle Association.

The Republican asked the Senate Armed Services Committee to find out why the NRA has become "the exclusive sales agent" for surplus Army rifles.

That measure, bitterly opposed by the NRA, was approved Wednesday by the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

The 5 to 4 decision was only a preliminary skirmish in the gun control battle, which will be waged later in the full Judiciary Committee and in the Senate itself.

The Johnson bill would bar interstate mail-order firearms sales, along with over-the-counter handgun sales to out-of-state purchasers. It also would bar importation of military surplus handguns and required licensing of all firearms dealers, importers and manufacturers.

The inquiry Griffin seeks does not involve the firearms control issue. It stems from the report of some 400 Detroit policemen that they are joining the NRA so they can purchase surplus carbine rifles for possible riot control use.

"Only the NRA and its affiliated units are eligible to purchase surplus arms and ammunition," Griffin complained. "In effect, the government has made the National Rifle Association its exclusive sales agent for surplus rifles.

"I see no reason why law enforcement agencies should be required to go through the NRA to fulfill a defense function," he said.

State and local law enforcement agencies should be permitted to purchase directly the Pentagon's surplus weapons, Griffin said.

Israel, Egypt Duel Again Across Canal

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian tank and artillery units battled across the Suez Canal for the second straight day today and four Israelis were killed and six wounded in the fighting, an army spokesman said.

The skirmish at El Qantara in the canal's northern sector brought the heaviest Israeli casualties since a fierce cross-canal exchange July 14 that left seven Israelis dead and 22 wounded.

The Egyptians scored a direct hit on an Israeli bunker, injuring several soldiers, the spokesman said. Israeli gunners claimed strikes on two Egyptian tanks, but it was not known if they were destroyed.

The battle began at 7:55 a.m. local time when the Egyptians opened up with small arms and machine guns, gradually intensifying their barrage to recoilless rifles, tanks and heavy artillery, the spokesman said.

Israelis returned the fire. U.N. observers requested a cease-fire and the Israelis agreed to it about an hour after the firing began. But a few minutes later, the army spokesman said, Egyptians began firing again with light arms and the Israelis shot back.

They charged that Egyptians sent boats with armed troops into canal water thereby breaking the U.N.-sponsored agreement whereby both Israel and Egypt promised to refrain from boats in the canal.

HIGH STYLE is in order for BOAC air hostesses, such as Pat Bleasdale, since the line started issuing minidresses on the line's New York and Caribbean flights as part of a promotional campaign. New dresses will be issued to each girl for each flight, and they can keep them after the flights.

Bank Robbed Of $50,000 At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two gunmen escaped with between $50,000 and $60,000 from a Central National Bank branch on the West Side Wednesday afternoon in one of the biggest bank robberies in recent Cleveland history

It was first announced by bank officials that the loss was between $18,000 and $20,000, but an audit was not completed Wednesday night

The FBI said a hidden camera made movies of the robbery at 6727 Denison Ave

The gunmen, who wore plaid shirts, fled in a stolen car which was later recovered by the FBI The car was being checked for fingerprints

One of the robbers held six persons--including three customers--at gunpoint for 5 minutes while the other leaped over the counter and cleaned out four cash drawers and an open safe, police said

Mrs Sue Taylor, 23, a teller, pushed an alarm button after the robbers fled

"We were frightened to death," said Mrs Taylor "One man was very nervous and I was afraid he would use his gun"

Midland Area News

Mrs. Charles McClure 643-1130

Plans to hold a public smorgasbord dinner were discussed when the Italian Sons and Daughters of America, Midland Lodge 181, met Tuesday night at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum. Mrs. Margaret Migliore presided.

Mrs. Lena Pekich was named kitchen chairman for the event which will be held Oct. 29 at the lyceum. Mrs. Anthony D'Angelo and Mrs. Sam Zuppe are co-chairmen of the dining room committee, while Miss Janet Toth, Miss Clementine D'Angelo, Miss Connie Cellini and Mrs. Michael LaPorte are co-chairmen of ticket sales.

The dinner will be sponsored by the ways and means committee.

Miss D'Angelo reported on a national ISDA convocation held Friday through Sunday at the Flying Carpet Motel. As deputy to the Sewickley Lodge she received a plaque. Sam Treemarchi of Pittsburgh, deputy to the Midland Lodge, also received a plaque. All deputies were honored at the event at which a Folk Mass was celebrated by Fr. Bosco.

James Falbo of Coraopolis, national counsellor appointed to the Midland Lodge, spoke about the recent ISDA trip to Italy and an audience with Pope Paul. He also reported on the 68th biennial convention planned for Atlantic City the week of Aug. 18, 1968, and a membership campaign to be held in conjunction with the convention. The campaign will end next May. Members may earn points toward attending the convention.

Treemarchi spoke on the Youth Membership program and thanked the ISDA for sending him to the convocation during the past weekend.

Mrs. Migliore reported there are 31 youth memberships in effect in the youth membership campaign and urged the group to work toward having one youth membership for each adult membership.

Mrs. D'Angelo said the Lodge will send get-well cards to several members who are ill. Mrs. Migliore gave a report on Italian Day at Kennywood Park and on a family picnic held in August at the Midland Lions Club pavilion.

The ISDA will attend a dinner dance sponsored by the Vance Fort Lodge at Coraopolis Oct. 7. Mrs. Migliore is accepting reservations for the event at the May Club on Sawmill Run Blvd., Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Arthur Clark who operates a doll hospital at her residence in Ohioville Borough, presented her doll collection and gave interesting highlights of her work in reproducing antique dolls of many nations. About 40 attended. Prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Wirag and Mrs. Anne Della Valle.

The social committee included Mrs. William Selepec, Mrs. Vincent DiMaggio, Mrs. Joseph Pakavich, Mrs. Ralph Cilli, Mrs. James D'Angelo and Mrs. Robert Reighard.

Mrs. Frank Aloi and Mrs. Lena Pekich will be co-chairmen of the next meeting Oct. 17 at the lyceum.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

The 37th anniversary of the Midland Circle of Serbian Sisters will be celebrated at a dinner meeting tonight at 6 at the Serbian National Home in connection with a patron day holiday. Mrs. Dorothy Dragevich is president.

Members and their families will be guests. For entertainment, a combo from the St. George Tammies will play.

The Rev. Robert Reardon, principal of Quigley High School, will be the guest speaker when the Women's Guild of Presentation Catholic Church meets Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the lyceum.

Mrs. William Selepec, president, will preside. Mrs. Amedeo Quinzio and Ms. Thomas Wood will be co - chairmen of the social time. They will be assisted by members from the 11th and 12th St. area and the barracks.

It's Up Front That Counts

LISBON — Local police stopped two cars traveling on one set of license plates last midnight after being alerted by Sheriff's Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman.

He was east of Lisbon on Route 30 when he saw the two cars pass toward Lisbon. Neither had plates on the front, but both carried N-1222-R on the rear.

Terrence Downey, 22, of Massillon, to whom the licenses were issued, forfeited a $40 appearance bond in mayor's court. Andrew W. Simons, 38, of Brewster forfeited $25. They put the plate from Simons' car back on Downey's and continued on their way, leaving the other car here.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I mix my own cement for mending crockery?

A. — Here's one which, although it usually takes a long time to dry, is well worth it, for it will stand up under heat and water. Just mix a little pure white lead with linseed oil, and use this very thickly on the broken edges of your crockery. Let it set for at least a week.

Q. — How can I restore the nap on velvet?

A. — If any portion of a velvet dress is crushed, hold that part over a wide basin of hot water, placing the wrong side next to the water. This usually restores the pile.

Q. — What causes meringue on pies to become tough?

A. — Meringue will be tough and will shring when set away to cool if it has been baked in an oven that is too hot.

Q. — How can I repair some deeply scratched woodwork?

A. — Try filling the scratches with a mixture of fine sawdust and spar varnish, and after this hardened completely, smooth it down with fine sandpaper. Many other such tips on the care of woodwork are included in my new household-hints book.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian tank and artillery units battled across the Suez Canal for the second straight day today and four Israelis were killed and six wounded in the fighting, an army spokesman said.

The Egyptians scored a direct hit on an Israeli bunker, injuring several soldiers, the spokesman said. Israeli gunners claimed strikes on two Egyptian tanks, but it was not known if they were destroyed.

The battle began at 7:55 a.m. local time when the Egyptians opened up with small arms and machine guns, gradually intensifying their barrage to recoilless rifles, tanks and heavy artillery, the spokesman said.

Israelis returned the fire. U.N. observers requested a cease-fire and the Israelis agreed to it about an hour after the firing began. But a few minutes later, the army spokesman said, Egyptians began firing again with light arms and the Israelis shot back.

Israeli forces claimed Wednesday they sank three Egyptian motor boats in two separate incidents at Port Taufiq at the southern end of the canal.

They charged that Egyptians sent boats with armed troops into canal water thereby breaking the U.N.-sponsored agreement whereby both Israel and Egypt promised to refrain from boats in the canal.

HIGH STYLE is in order for BOAC air hostesses, such as Pat Bleasdale, since the line started issuing minidresses on the line's New York and Caribbean flights as part of a promotional campaign. New dresses will be issued to each girl for each flight, and they can keep them after the flights.

Military Chaplain's Duties Explained To Church Group

"Duties of a Military Chaplain" was discussed by the Rev. James N. Servey of the Zion First Lutheran Church of Ambridge during the meeting Tuesday of the Lutheran Christian Women's organization of the Ohio View Evangelical Lutheran Church in Fellowship hall, Industry.

He explained that the primary obligation of a chaplain with the armed forces is "to bring God to men and men to God." He served as lieutenant chaplain and later captain for three years at Ft. McClellan, Ala., where he was assistant chaplain of the WACs. He is at present a member of the Army Reserves.

Mrs. George Madish was elected president for the 1968 and 1969 terms. Re-elected were Mrs. Joseph Fiediga, vice president; Mrs. Charles Newcomb, secretary, and Mrs. Karl Wagoner, treasurer.

COMMITTEE chairmen named are: Mrs. Paul Brucker, Christian service; Mrs. Homer Paul, Christian education, and Mrs. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, offerings and membership combined.

The candidates were presented by the nominating committee comprised of Mrs. Brucker, chairman; Mrs. Fiediga and Mrs. Newcomb.

Elected as delegate and alternate to the 1968 LCW Synodical convention were Mrs. Madish and Mrs. George MacLeod, respectively.

Mrs. John Romisher presented the devotional topic, "The Legacy of Faith."

Mrs. Jack M. Peck, president, announced that the Dixmont State Hospital at Glenfield is soliciting volunteer workers to assist with patients in every department of the hospital's fall program, to serve regularly or on a half day basis. Information may be obtained by calling the volunteer office 761-1780, Ext. 226. Some of the duties of volunteers include writing letters for patients, reading, taking patients for nature walks and teaching sewing.

MRS. NEWCOMB, secretary, read a note of appreciation from the Zelienople Old People's Home for a recent contribution and an invitation was announced to attend the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church LCW meeting Oct. 10 at 6:30 p.m. at Beaver. Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Paul were asked to participate in the LCW Woman's Magazine skit which recently was enacted at the Thiel College convention.

The Altar Care Committee for October will include Mrs. Robert Cowan, chairman; Mrs. Jerry Medlicott, Mrs. Romisher, Mrs. Wayne Pinkerton, Diana Cowan and Kerry Eshenbaugh.

Mrs. Cowan was named nursery chairman.

Mrs. Peck reported on the LCW Convention she and Mrs. Paul recently attended at Thiel College.

Mrs. William Stiblo, offering chairman, announced that the Reformation thankoffering will be held in October in observance of the 450th Reformation celebration, Oct. 29, at 8 p. m. in the Grace Lutheran Church at Rochester.

The Lutheran World Relief Thanksgiving clothing appeal was discussed and an annual drive scheduled for Nov. 19, stressing the urgent need for blankets, men's, women's and children's clothing and floor sleeping mats.

REV. ARNAL announced that arrangements were made for the LCW to host the Lutheran Service Society meeting Oct. 30 in the church hall. Mrs. Brucker was named chairman.

Mrs. Peck presented gifts of appreciation to the Rev. Servey, Miss Eichler and Miss Pflugh and Rev. Arnal.

Invocation and benediction was voiced by Rev. Servey. Guests were Mrs. Charles Barrickman, Mrs. Lawrence Kirkpatrick and Mrs. John Waddell.

Mrs. Brucker will present the program, "Faith and Fellowship," at the next meeting Oct. 17 at 8:15 p. m. at her home in Industry RD 2. Mrs. Madish will lead devotions.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh presided at the tea table centered with an arrangement of pink roses. Hostesses were Mrs. Romisher and Mrs. Peck.

Club At Negley Gets Charter During Ruritan Ceremonies

NEGLEY — Robert H. Bailey of Kingsport, Tenn., president of Ruritan National, presented a charter Wednesday night to Ohio's newest Ruritan Club — the Negley Community Club.

Forty-two were present for the institution in the local Methodist church. The 20 charter members elected the following officers:

Howard Todd, president; Dale Murphy, vice president; George Gorby, secretary; Charles Minamyer, treasurer, and George Persing, Richard Houser and Joseph Pelleio directors for terms of one, two and three years, respectively.

They were installed by James Justice of the Greenford Club, Ohio district governor, who presided.

The Rev. Leland Floyd of the host church gave the invocation. The Negley club was the second chartered in the Ohio district this week. The Onasburg Community Club near Canton was chartered Monday.

The Fairfield, Lisbon and Hanover township clubs will hold a combined meeting Oct. 1 at 7:30 p. m. at Bethesda Presbyterian Church near Millport to celebrate their charter anniversaries (1952). Charles Allen of Sinks Grove, W. Va., vice president of Ruritan National, will be guest speaker.

Guests last night included Floyd Lower, Lisbon club, past national president; James Baxter, Guilford, national director; Richard D. Speidel, Hanover, past national director; Franklin Henderson, Winona, past Ohio district governor; Richard T. Klyne, Berlin - Ellsworth, past Ohio district governor.

Bank Robbed Of $50,000 At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two gunmen escaped with between $50,000 and $60,000 from a Central National Bank branch on the West Side Wednesday afternoon in one of the biggest bank robberies in recent Cleveland history

It was first announced by bank officials that the loss was between $18,000 and $20,000, but an audit was not completed Wednesday night

The FBI said a hidden camera made movies of the robbery at 6727 Denison Ave

The gunmen, who wore plaid shirts, fled in a stolen car which was later recovered by the FBI The car was being checked for fingerprints

One of the robbers held six persons--including three customers--at gunpoint for 5 minutes while the other leaped over the counter and cleaned out four cash drawers and an open safe, police said

Mrs Sue Taylor, 23, a teller, pushed an alarm button after the robbers fled

"We were frightened to death," said Mrs Taylor "One man was very nervous and I was afraid he would use his gun"

Midland Area News

Mrs. Charles McClure 643-1130

Plans to hold a public smorgasbord dinner were discussed when the Italian Sons and Daughters of America, Midland Lodge 181, met Tuesday night at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum. Mrs. Margaret Migliore presided.

Mrs. Lena Pekich was named kitchen chairman for the event which will be held Oct. 29 at the lyceum. Mrs. Anthony D'Angelo and Mrs. Sam Zuppe are co-chairmen of the dining room committee, while Miss Janet Toth, Miss Clementine D'Angelo, Miss Connie Cellini and Mrs. Michael LaPorte are co-chairmen of ticket sales.

The dinner will be sponsored by the ways and means committee.

Miss D'Angelo reported on a national ISDA convocation held Friday through Sunday at the Flying Carpet Motel. As deputy to the Sewickley Lodge she received a plaque. Sam Treemarchi of Pittsburgh, deputy to the Midland Lodge, also received a plaque. All deputies were honored at the event at which a Folk Mass was celebrated by Fr. Bosco.

James Falbo of Coraopolis, national counsellor appointed to the Midland Lodge, spoke about the recent ISDA trip to Italy and an audience with Pope Paul. He also reported on the 68th biennial convention planned for Atlantic City the week of Aug. 18, 1968, and a membership campaign to be held in conjunction with the convention. The campaign will end next May. Members may earn points toward attending the convention.

Treemarchi spoke on the Youth Membership program and thanked the ISDA for sending him to the convocation during the past weekend.

Mrs. Migliore reported there are 31 youth memberships in effect in the youth membership campaign and urged the group to work toward having one youth membership for each adult membership.

Mrs. D'Angelo said the Lodge will send get-well cards to several members who are ill. Mrs. Migliore gave a report on Italian Day at Kennywood Park and on a family picnic held in August at the Midland Lions Club pavilion.

The ISDA will attend a dinner dance sponsored by the Vance Fort Lodge at Coraopolis Oct. 7. Mrs. Migliore is accepting reservations for the event at the May Club on Sawmill Run Blvd., Pittsburgh.

The group made a donation to the Midland Mothers Athletic Association for their annual football program book.

Mrs. Arthur Clark who operates a doll hospital at her residence in Ohioville Borough, presented her doll collection and gave interesting highlights of her work in reproducing antique dolls of many nations. About 40 attended. Prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Wirag and Mrs. Anne Della Valle.

The social committee included Mrs. William Selepec, Mrs. Vincent DiMaggio, Mrs. Joseph Pakavich, Mrs. Ralph Cilli, Mrs. James D'Angelo and Mrs. Robert Reighard.

Mrs. Frank Aloi and Mrs. Lena Pekich will be co-chairmen of the next meeting Oct. 17 at the lyceum.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

The 37th anniversary of the Midland Circle of Serbian Sisters will be celebrated at a dinner meeting tonight at 6 at the Serbian National Home in connection with a patron day holiday. Mrs. Dorothy Dragevich is president.

Members and their families will be guests. For entertainment, a combo from the St. George Tammies will play.

The Rev. Robert Reardon, principal of Quigley High School, will be the guest speaker when the Women's Guild of Presentation Catholic Church meets Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the lyceum.

Mrs. William Selepec, president, will preside. Mrs. Amedeo Quinzio and Ms. Thomas Wood will be co - chairmen of the social time. They will be assisted by members from the 11th and 12th St. area and the barracks.

It's Up Front That Counts

LISBON — Local police stopped two cars traveling on one set of license plates last midnight after being alerted by Sheriff's Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman.

He was east of Lisbon on Route 30 when he saw the two cars pass toward Lisbon. Neither had plates on the front, but both carried N-1222-R on the rear.

Wellman returned to Lisbon ahead of the cars and notified Capt. John Varner, who made the arrests on a charge of driving with improper plates.

Terrence Downey, 22, of Massillon, to whom the licenses were issued, forfeited a $40 appearance bond in mayor's court. Andrew W. Simons, 38, of Brewster forfeited $25. They put the plate from Simons' car back on Downey's and continued on their way, leaving the other car here.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I mix my own cement for mending crockery?

A. — Here's one which, although it usually takes a long time to dry, is well worth it, for it will stand up under heat and water. Just mix a little pure white lead with linseed oil, and use this very thickly on the broken edges of your crockery. Let it set for at least a week.

Q. — How can I restore the nap on velvet?

A. — If any portion of a velvet dress is crushed, hold that part over a wide basin of hot water, placing the wrong side next to the water. This usually restores the pile.

Q. — What causes meringue on pies to become tough?

A. — Meringue will be tough and will shring when set away to cool if it has been baked in an oven that is too hot.

Q. — How can I repair some deeply scratched woodwork?

A. — Try filling the scratches with a mixture of fine sawdust and spar varnish, and after this hardened completely, smooth it down with fine sandpaper. Many other such tips on the care of woodwork are included in my new household-hints book.

58 Works Set New Record For Art Show

LISBON — Sixteen Columbiana County artists are represented in the fifth annual art show at Hunter's Newsstand, 136 E. Lincoln Way. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hunter are the sponsors.

Fifty - eight paintings and drawings — a record for the show — will remain on display through Oct. 1. Some of the pictures are for sale the Hunters said. There were no sculpture entries this year.

Rae Coulter, Columbiana artist and teacher, judged the three classes when the show opened Wednesday. Results follow — first, second and third:

Three white ribbons for honorable mention were awarded in the oil paintings category: "Dutch Windmills," John Litty, 754 E. 3rd St., Salem; "Fisherman's Rest,'" Mrs. Eaton; "Mountain Stream," Edgar Conn, Lisbon.

Personalities In The News

TRUMBULL, Conn. (AP) — Edward Mulhare, stage and film actor, is engaged to marry Miss M. Carleen Gunther, a Bridgeport public school teacher, it was announced Wednesday.

Miss Gunther said she met Mulhare last June because of the efforts of freinds in Trumbull, Mr. and Mrs. James Becker, who invited the couple to dinner to get acquainted.

The prospective bride's parents, of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Gunther of Trumbull, said the wedding would take place Nov. 25.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr has been sued for $303,900 by her former manager, Earl Mills, who contends Miss Lamarr broke an agreement to pay him 10 per cent of royalties from her ghost-written book, "Ecstasy and Me."

Mills said in a suit filed in superior court Wednesday that he received only partial payment.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Musical comedy star Ethel Merman and her son-in-law have been named guardians of Miss Merman's two grandchildren.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Rick Nelson's wife, Kristin, gave birth to twin boys Wednesday at St. Joseph Hospital in nearby Burbank. The boys weighed 6 pounds 11 ounces and 6 pounds 1 ounce at birth.

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Radio-television personality John Charles Daly has taken over as head of the Voice of America in a ceremony that was something of a family affair.

Administering the oath of office was Chief Justice Earl Warren who is Daly's father-in-law. In attendance were Mrs. Warren, Virginia Warren Daly, the two Daly children as well as a number of Washington notables.

Local Option Issue Due Conneaut Vote

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—Voters in 16 of Conneaut's 21 precincts will get to vote on the local option issue in the November election.

The Ashtabula County Board of Elections Wednesday night certified 577 of the 912 signatures on petitions calling for the vote, with 509 required to get the issue on the ballot.

The Conneaut Chamber of Commerce had sought a vote on the local option issue in an effort to change the area from "dry" to "wet." It said restaurant development in the area of the Ohio 7 interchange of Interstate 90 would be hampered if cocktail lounges were not permitted.

LISBON — Sixteen Columbiana County artists are represented in the fifth annual art show at Hunter's Newsstand, 136 E. Lincoln Way. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hunter are the sponsors.

Fifty - eight paintings and drawings — a record for the show — will remain on display through Oct. 1. Some of the pictures are for sale the Hunters said. There were no sculpture entries this year.

Rae Coulter, Columbiana artist and teacher, judged the three classes when the show opened Wednesday. Results follow — first, second and third:

Three white ribbons for honorable mention were awarded in the oil paintings category: "Dutch Windmills," John Litty, 754 E. 3rd St., Salem; "Fisherman's Rest," Mrs. Eaton; "Mountain Stream," Edgar Conn, Lisbon.

Personalities In The News

TRUMBULL, Conn. (AP) — Edward Mulhare, stage and film actor, is engaged to marry Miss M. Carleen Gunther, a Bridgeport public school teacher, it was announced Wednesday.

Miss Gunther said she met Mulhare last June because of the efforts of freinds in Trumbull, Mr. and Mrs. James Becker, who invited the couple to dinner to get acquainted.

The prospective bride's parents, of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Gunther of Trumbull, said the wedding would take place Nov. 25.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr has been sued for $303,900 by her former manager, Earl Mills, who contends Miss Lamarr broke an agreement to pay him 10 per cent of royalties from her ghost-written book, "Ecstasy and Me."

Mills said in a suit filed in superior court Wednesday that he received only partial payment.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Musical comedy star Ethel Merman and her son-in-law have been named guardians of Miss Merman's two grandchildren.

Miss Merman's daughter, Ethel M. Geary, was found dead in a resort cabin near Denver Aug. 22, an accidental overdose of sleeping pills listed as the cause.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Rick Nelson's wife, Kristin, gave birth to twin boys Wednesday at St. Joseph Hospital in nearby Burbank. The boys weighed 6 pounds 11 ounces and 6 pounds 1 ounce at birth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radio-television personality John Charles Daly has taken over as head of the Voice of America in a ceremony that was something of a family affair.

Administering the oath of office was Chief Justice Earl Warren who is Daly's father-in-law. In attendance were Mrs. Warren, Virginia Warren Daly, the two Daly children as well as a number of Washington notables.

Local Option Issue Due Conneaut Vote

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—Voters in 16 of Conneaut's 21 precincts will get to vote on the local option issue in the November election.

The Ashtabula County Board of Elections Wednesday night certified 577 of the 912 signatures on petitions calling for the vote, with 509 required to get the issue on the ballot.

The Conneaut Chamber of Commerce had sought a vote on the local option issue in an effort to change the area from "dry" to "wet." It said restaurant development in the area of the Ohio 7 interchange of Interstate 90 would be hampered if cocktail lounges were not permitted.

ON SALE TODAY!

Mercury Montego: In the tracks of the Cougar comes Mercury's newest and lowest-priced luxury car. Montego combines Cougar excitement with full 6-passenger comfort. Designed with the Fine Car Touch by the makers of Lincoln Continental. Five-pod instrument cluster set in walnut-toned vinyl appliqué. A smooth, quiet ride: we gave it the agility of a Cougar, then added many of the road-smoothing features from our costliest cars. The engine is a 302 cu. in. V-8 (or a 200 "6" if you prefer). Wheelbase: 116". Length: 206.1".

Mercury: This is the closest any car can come to the ride and feel of the Continental. You'll be reminded of the Continental ride as you glide gently over dips and road seams. We took seven ride ideas from the Continental. You can feel the Fine Car Touch our Continental designers have lavished on Mercury. In the rich nylon carpeting. And in the comforting quiet created by 123 pounds of sound insulation. Mercury news includes 3 sweptback models like the Park Lane 2-door hardtop shown. Engines up to 428 cu. in. Wheelbase: 123 inches. Length: 220.1 inches.

Mercury Montego: In the tracks of the Cougar comes Mercury's newest and lowest-priced luxury car. Montego combines Cougar excitement with full 6-passenger comfort. Designed with the Fine Car Touch by the makers of Lincoln Continental. Five-pod instrument cluster set in walnut-toned vinyl appliqué. A smooth, quiet ride: we gave it the agility of a Cougar, then added many of the road-smoothing features from our costliest cars. The engine is a 302 cu. in. V-8 (or a 200 "6" if you prefer). Wheelbase: 116". Length: 206.1".

Mercury: This is the closest any car can come to the ride and feel of the Continental. You'll be reminded of the Continental ride as you glide gently over dips and road seams. We took seven ride ideas from the Continental. You can feel the Fine Car Touch our Continental designers have lavished on Mercury. In the rich nylon carpeting. And in the comforting quiet created by 123 pounds of sound insulation. Mercury news includes 3 sweptback models like the Park Lane 2-door hardtop shown. Engines up to 428 cu. in. Wheelbase: 123 inches. Length: 220.1 inches.

Junior Editors Quiz on TEMPERATURES

QUESTION: Where was the highest temperature recorded, and what was it?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Since the rays of the sun pour more directly down in the equatorial or tropical regions, it is in these regions that we find the locations of greatest heat. In the tropics the weather is always warm or hot. There is no winter. In parts of the tropical area, such as the jungles of Brazil, there is much rain; these are the wet tropics. Vegetation flourishes, but there is so much moisture, or humidity, in the air that this climate can be very uncomfortable. Other tropical areas, such as the great Sahara desert in Africa, have so little rainfall that plants can only live by occasional waterholes. The rest is barren desert. Without shade, the sun pours fiercely down and the temperature can rise to unbelieveable heights. It was on the northern edge of the Sahara, at a place called Aziza in the country of Libya, near the city of Tripoli, that on September 13, 1922, the thermometer shot up to 136 degrees. This is the hottest weather ever recorded by man.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this date in 1949, West Germany came into formal existence when the Allied high commission transferred to it the administration of American, British and French zones of occupation.

On this date:

In 1938, Czechoslovakia announced it had agreed to cede the Sudeten German area of that country to Nazi Germany.

In 1939, Russia and Germany agreed on the demarcation of Poland.

In 1945, President Harry Truman officially approved "World War Two" as the title of the war which had just ended.

Ten years ago — A West German sailing vessel sank off the Azores with a loss of 80 lives.

Five years ago — Algerians went to the polls to vote for their first national assembly.

One year ago — U.S. jet pilots downed two Communist MIGs over North Vietnam and damaged three others in the biggest day of air combat of the war so far.
